E. W. B. WOOLLY AND WARM

Is the Debate on the Tariff Bill' in the Senate.

Washington, June 13.—The presentation of numerous petitions for the exception of beneficial societies from the provisions of the proposed income tax furnished an opportunity to Mr. Vest to state in behalf of the finance committee that the amendments asked for in relation to these societies were not necessary, but that an amendment had been agreed upon by the committee to exempt those benevolent fraternal societies. The bill as it was did exempt from taxation all corporations that were not organtion all corporations that were not organ-ized for profit—all that were organized for charitable, religious or educational pur-poses. These societies seem to have agreed on the following amendment, to which the finance committee made not the slightest objection

"That the exemption shall extend to those corporations, including fraternal beneficiary societies, organizations or associations op-erating on the lodge system and providing for the payment of life, sick, accident and other benefits to the members and the de-pendents of such members."

Mr. Gallinger-Do I understand that the finance committee is in favor of such amend-

Mr. Vest-Unquestionably; for that is the meaning of the bill. We consulted with the attorneys and representatives of these societies and undertook to show them that that was the meaning of the provision in the bill, but they desired this amendment, and the finance committee has no objection

Mr. Morgan offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the secretary of the treasury for information as to the amount of gold coin received in the treasury or subtreasury since November 1, 1893, as to what part of it was obtained from the sale of United States bonds, to what persons or banks the bonds, was called as the sale of the bonds was called as the sale of the s sons or banks the bonds were sold, and as to what payments or redemptions have been made in gold coin or in bullion since November 1, 1893.

Mr. Hoar offered a resolution, which was agreed to, requesting the president of the United States to communicate forthwith, if not incompatible with the public interest, all representations, written or oral, made to the government of the United States, or the department of state, by the States, or the department of state, by the representative of any foreign government in reference to the possible action of such government by way of retaliation for the proposed imposition by the United States of a duty on sugar, and especially as to the probable exclusion of the agricultural products of the United States by such government from its territory, and especially whether any and what representations have been so received in reference to the prob-able action of Germany and Guatemala.

At 5:45 o'clock Mr. Quay yielded the floor to Mr. Harris, who asked unanimous con-sent that after a speech by Mr. Aldrich tomorrow the further discussion of the wool schedule chould be under the five-minute rule. Mr. Harris expressed his own readiness to stay with any senator who desired to go on with a set speech on the wool schedule tonight, but he felt that there was on imperative duty resting on him and his associates to make progress with the

Mr. Quay remarked, suggestively, that if the request were withdrawn now and was renewed tomorrow the conditions of the question might be then changed.

It turned out that Messrs. Lodge, Platt and Teller desired to speak tomorrow on the wool schedule and did not wish to be restricted to five or ten minutes, and Mr. Chandler gave a ludicrous touch to the colloquy by proposing that the debate tomorrow should be under the five-minute rule, but that any senator who desired to speak for a longer time should be at liberty to do so. Finally, Mr. Harris said that he was raising no question about intentional delay. The thing which he complained of was the delay itself. That was the misfortune of the senate and of the country. He gave notice that he would repeat his request tomorrow and hoped that it would meet with better success than it had met with today. liberty to do so.

with better success than it had met with today.

The tariff bill was then laid aside and the senate at 6:10 o'clock, after a short executive session, adjourned until tomorrow at 10 o'clock a. m.

WEADOCK'S QUESTION

Which Linton Refused to Answer. The Indian Bill.

Washington, June 13.—In the house to-day the bill of Mr. Turner, democrat, of Georgia, to amend the act organizing the circuit corrts of appeals so as to permit appeals from judgments thereof in cases where receivers are appointed without ac-companying injunctions was agreed to. The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up in committee of the whole for further consideration. Mr. Linton, republican, of Michigan, who made a speech last week against the continuance of the system of religious schools under contract with the Indian bureau, under contract with the Indian bureau, which was described the next day by Mr. Weadock, democrat, of Michigan, as the effort of the mouthpiece of the A. P. A., recurred to that subject. He said the statements that his speech had been prepared for him, had been revised by a third person, and that he had withheld the publication of his remarks, were all without foundation in fact. The gentleman from Michigan (Mr. Weadock) Mr. Linton said had gone into the oath-publishing business in his speech. He had received a telegram from the supreme secretary of the A. P. A., himself a democrat, stating that the quotations used by Mr. Weadock were no part of the oath of the order and that he had forwarded an affidavit to that fact. At any opportune time, Mr. Linton said, he would refer to this matter more in detail and the house would know before the end was reached whether the demands of a foreign church are over and above the declarations of party platforms, the love of patriotism and the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Weadock responded that he had declarations of party hadrons of the of patriotism and the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Weadock responded that he had nothing to explain or retract respecting the statements he had made regarding Mr. Linton's speech. As to the relations existing between the gentleman (Mr. Linton) and the A. P. A., he would ask him whether or not he was a member and give him time for reply.

Mr. Linton—I do not propose to be catechised. (Democratic laughter.)

An amendment was adopted appropriating $5,000 for the Seminole Indians in Florida.

In the course of consideration of the items for the support and civilization of Indians, Mr. Smith, democrat, of Arizona, criticised the attempts to Christianize the Indians before civilizing them. He said that the children educated at schools in the east and off the agencies on which their parents resided went back home and fell into the habits of their ancestors and fell into the habits of their ancestors and the efforts in their behalf were practically waster.

SPEAKS RIGHT OUT.

Mr. Havemeyer Answers Questions Without Quibbling.

DECLINED TO TELL HOW MUCH MONEY

The Trust Contributed to State and Local Campaign Funds,

BUT SAID THE OBJECT OF THE COMBINE

Was to Advance the Price of Sugar to the American Consumer-Treasurer Searles Also Testifies.

Washington, June 13 .- H. O. Havemeyer was before the sugar trust committee again today. Mr. Havemeyer was on the stand about half an hour. He made only one important statement that was new, most of his testimony being a repetition of what he said yesterday.

the American Sugar Retining Company had contributed to the state and local campaign funds, and asserted that this was a matter over which the committee had no jurisdiction.

He declined to state the amount of money

Mr. Havemeyer repeated his statement of yesterday that the refining company, which Havemeyer says is "misnamed a trust," had contributed nothing to any national campaign fund.

With reference to the question as to how much money the so-called trust had made in profits that could be attributed directly to the McKinley act, he made the rather ambiguous answer that the profits that would me made under the tariff bill now before the senate would be about onefourth of those made under the McKinley

Mr. Havemeyer was excused at the conclusion of his testimony. It is understood that the committee has no authority to make Havemeyer tell how much money the refining company contributed for state and local campaign purposes.

The members of the committee are very much gratified at the full and free statements made by Havemeyer, and they say that they believe he was entirely frank in what he said.

Profits Under the Present Law. Mr. Havemeyer testified that the profit of the sugar trust under the existing law (McKinley) is three-eighths of a cent per pound and that under the proposed sugar schedule in the pending tariff bill the increased cost of sugar to the consumer will be 1 cent per pound.

Senator Linusay asked: "Is not this further fact that the trust, being able to fix the price in America, has it not been the policy of the trust to iix it just low enough to keep out refined sugar made in foreign countries?"

"That is the business, practically, of the American Sugar Refining Company."
"And so you have fixed it as to practically exclude all foreign competition?" "Yes, sii; as a protection to our own bus-

"In fact," said Senator Allen, "the very purpose of the formation of the trust, as 1 understand you, was to advance the price of sugar to the American consumer?" "Yes, sir," was the frank response.

"And the American consumer is today aying three-eighths of a cent a pound on refined sugar more than he would be compelled to pay under a system of free (or separate) refineries?" "Yes, sir."

The Treasurer Testifies.

John G. Searles, secretary and treasurer of the sugar trust, also testified, but he added very little to the committee's stock of information, the ground having been so thoroughly covered by Mr. Havemeyer. He corroborated Mr. Havemeyer's statements throughout. Mr. Searles said his sole business in Washington last winter was for the purpose of influencing congressional legislation on the sugar schedule. Then Mr. Allen proceeded to question Mr. Searles about the contributions of the trust to campaign funds. Mr. Searles said that contributions had been made in 1892. but he did not care to testify on that point unless the resolution, under which the committee was acting, embraced that inquiry. He was told that the resolution did embrace that point, and answered: "In answer to that question with refer ence to any contributions to secure or defeat legislation, I answer emphatically no."

FOR THE SOUTH'S BENEFIT.

A Meeting Called to Induce Investment in the Southern States.
Washington, June 13.—A meeting fraught with the utmost significance to the in-terests of the whole south will be held at the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York, Thursday, June 21st. It is a direct outgrowth of the many public conventions held of re-cent years in the south to induce capital, industrial plants and desirable immigra-

The general invitation to this New York meeting will be published in The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record tomorrow and is made at the request of Senator Patrick Walsh, Colonel D. B. Dyer, of Augusta, Ga.; R. H. Edmonds, editor of The Manu-Gaturers' Record, and others, and fifty New Yorkers who have investments in the south, trade with the south, and of south-erners who now live in New York, but whose interests are south. These fifty names directly own or represent not less than $1,000,000 of capital.

The paper signed by this splendid and most complimentary list of names of the famous mercantile concerns of New York is as follows:

"New York, June 12.—We have considered the communications of Colonel D. B. Dyer, Hon. Patrick Walsh and Mr. R. H. Edmonds, and suggesting an early meeting in this city of New York southerners and prominent New York business men interested in the south or southern trade, to confer with representatives of leading in-terests from that section. Recognizing the vital importance of the subject, not only to the south, but to the whole country, we will be glad to meet southern business men for conference at the Fifth Avenue hotel on the 21st day of this present month. Judged by the financial prominence of the men who have signed this invitation, this promises to be the most important meeting ever held in behalf of southern advancement. Men representing not simply millions, but hundreds of millions, who recognize the fact that the advtanges and resources of the south only need to be fully known to the world to bring about a great increase in the south and its future to meet them in New York in order to have a gen-eral interchange of views from a purely business standpoint as to the best means of advancing the prosperity of the south. This invitation is general. It is extended to all business men, whether they be farmers, transportation - officials, bankers, merchasts and manufacturers or property owners, interested in the south. As the notice of this meeting is necessarily brief all business men who desire to attend can receive all particulars by addressing by mail or telegraph, R. H. Edmonds, editor Manufacturers' Record, Baltimore. It is expected that the outcome of this meeting will be of momentous consequence to the

TENNESSEE PROHIBITIONISTS

Practically Endorse the Populist Candidate for Governor. Nashville, Tenn., June 13 .- (Special.)-The prohibition party of Tennessee met in mass convention here today and practically decided to endorse the populist candidate for gov-ernor. This will be followed by an attempt by the populists to secure like action by the republicans, but the success of this endeavr is in doubt. The populists, however, and ne republicans will probably combine on candidates for the supreme judges and the prohibition executive committee may in-dorse these candidates. Colonel R. S. Cheves, of Union County, was the permanent chairman of today's convention. The platform demands absolute prohibition by state and national laws; that na-tional currency be issued direct to the people through government banks; that the tariff question be referred to a non-partisan commission and reductions be made plac-ing home manufacturers on a basis of equality with foreigners; that only the English language be taught in public schools; that convicts be worked on public roads; opposes oppressing those who observe any other day than the Sabbath as a day of rest; favors restriction of immigration; abolishing the fee system; limiting the ownership of land; electing the president, vice president and senators by the people; local option in towns; a constitutional convention; com-pulsory education and the free and unium-ited coinage of silver. The executive committee was instructed to nominate or recommend such candidates as they think will best promote the cause of prohibition. It was decided to fight for the petition feature of the Mississippi law before the next legislature.

Tennessee Republicans Meet Today. Nshville, Tenn., June 13.—(Special.)—The republican state convention meets here tomorrow to nominate five candidates for the supreme bench. The indications are that they will endorse A. E. Garrett, who was nominated by the populists, and nominate four others, as follows: John R. Walker, of Gibson; G. N. Tillman, of Davidson; Lewis J. Shepperd, of Hamilton, and James R. Baker, of Scott.

THEY COME TOGETHER.

Coalition of the American Railway Union and Knights of Labor. Chicago, June 13.—A coalition of the American Railway Union and the Knights of Labor was effected at today's session of union. The first steps were taken toward an offensive and defensive alliance of these two great labor organizations, with an effective strength of 350,000, each founded upon the principles of including in its membership laboring men of all classes. Opposed to this great confederation of laboring men are the American Federation of Labor, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Firemen and all kindred orders working on the class organization basis. There is every pros-pect of war to the death between the two factions of organized labor. Each has within the last few months made vigorous attacks upon the other and the radical differences in their priciples are likely to Charlottesville, Va., June 13.—The address before the society of the alumni was delivered today by the Rev. John Johnson, of Charleston, S. C. He announced no subject, but his discourse was based on the reverse of the pagan philosopher's epigram—"The fewer our wants, the nearer we are to the gods." The Alumni Society this afternoon elected Dr. Depew and Vice President Stevenson to honorary membership. Dr. W. C. N. Randolph and Colonel R. T. The State Will Win.

Tallahassee, Fla., June 14.—In the supreme court Attorney General Lamar has had a motion entered on the docket for the advancement of the case of N. B. Broward vs. the Duval Athletic Club. After ward vs. the Duval Athletic Club. After ten day's notice the appellees (the club), on motion of Mr. Lamar, the court will take the matter under advisement. This is a suit to test the validity of Judge Call's decision granting an injunction restraining Sheriff Broward from interferring with the Corbett-Mitchell fight at Jacksonville last January. It is understood that the club will not be represented when the case is called ten days from now, so the state is likely to have a walk over. The Detectives Slept.

Mt. Olive, Ill., June 13.—A freight train on the Wabash railroad and also one on the Mobile and Ohio railroad was held up here early this morning by alleged coal mine strikers and a number of cars loaded with vegetables and provisions were looted. A funny feature of the hold-up was that in the caboose of the Wabash train three detectives were enjoying a sound sleep while the cars were being robbed.

THEY ARE KICKING.

Miners Say They Will Not Accept the Settlement,

M'BRIDE SIGNED AT THE CONFERENCE A Lively Scrap Between Soldiers and

a Party of Strikers. REGULAR DONNYBROOK FIGHT

McBride Burned in Effigy-More Bridges Destroyed-Work Resumed at Cripple Creek Mines.

Columbus, O. June 13.-Dispatches from mining towns in Ohio today indicate that the feeling against accepting the settlement of the strike is everywhere strong. A. A. Adams, the president of the Ohio miners, who opposed the settlement to the last and refused to sign it finally, has undertaken a campaign against it and is addressing miners at the mining centers, urging them not to accept the settlement. He is a very radical leader and holds theories closely bordering on anarchy. The Straitsville miners, 7,000 strong, say they will not go to work. However, they have held no meeting to consider the agreement. At Glouster 8,000 miners in mass meeting adopted a resolution declaring the settlement premature and declining to accept it.

President McBride said today, when asked whether it seemed probable to him that the settlement would be accepted, that he did not care whether it was or not. As an officer of the miners' organization, he had labored earnestly and honestly for the miners' best interests. If they wished to throw aside the result of his work, that was their privilege. He hoped, however, that when the miners received the official statement of the matter and had cooled down somewhat they would conclude that the thing to do was to accept the conditions of the settlement.

Adjutant General Howe has asked the sheriffs of the counties in which there are now state troops on duty for permission to withdraw a part of them, but so far none of the sheriffs have consented to this. It is costing the state about $10,000 a day to maintain the troops now in active service. McBride Hung in Effigy.

McDonnold, Pa., June 13 .- A mass meeting of 2,000 miners, representing the mines in this vicinity, including those of W. P. Rend, was held here today. The object of the meeting was to decide whether the miners should abide by the terms of the Columbus compromise. As no official no-tice of the compromise agreement had yet been received from President McBride, at was decided to wait on this information before taking any action.

The feeling is strongly against accepting the 69-cent rate. Whether the miners will return to work on the receipt of McBride's circular is hard to say. It is reported that President McBride was nung in effigy by the miners at Hays's station this morning. The foreign element is becoming desperate, being almost on the verge of starvation.

McBride Denounced.

La Salle, Ill., June 13.—At a mass meetring of miners from Oglesby, Peru and La Salle, it was resolved to accept nothing less than last year's mining prices. Resolutions were also adopted denouncing the Columbus delegates and demanding the resignation of President McBride and others who were parties to the compromise agreement.

ment. Fist and Skull Fight. McClainesville, O., June 13.—About 9 o'clock this morning while Company K., Eighth regiment, was lying around its camp at the mouth of the big cut here a mob of about thirty strikers attacked the soldiers with clubs and stones and under-took to stampede the company. Captain Waybrecht saw that the attacking party had no firearms, so he told his men to lay aside their guns and meet the strikers with their own weapons. A Donnybrook affair followed, in which the Poles, Hungarians and Italians, composing the attacking party, were well whipped and routed, with no casualties more serious than bruises and cuts on either side. Two More Bridges Burned.

Massillon, O., June 13.—Two more bridges were burned on the Wheeling and Lake Erie this evening at Fuller mines, two miles east of Sherrodsville. The company had the temerity to assume that the strike was virtually over and moved one train of West Virginia coal. The caboose was barely out of sight of Sherrodsville when the bridges were burned down and telegraph wires cut. It will require at least four days to get the road open for freight traffic. The miners say they will not accept the Columbus compromise Work Resumed at Coal Creek. Coal Creek, Tenn., June 13 .- All miners in Coal Creek and Briceville districts resumed work today. This includes the Black Diamond, operated mines, which worked bu very few men since the strike began. The miners returned to work at the old scale.

A great number of objectionable miners were discharged. It is believed now that the strike is at an end here.

THREATENING THE ENGINEERS. The Latest Move of the Striking Miners in Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., June 13.—(Special.)— Not satisfied with the results from ourning bridges and attempting to stop loal traffic the striking miners have made another move, by which they hope to gain the sup-port of railroad engineers. Notices have been sent to the engineers on the Kansas City, Memphis and Blimingham railroad, notifying them not to haul any more "scab" coal at the peril of their lives. These letters are very threatening and are signed "One Thousand Miners."

The miners think that by intimidation

they can bring on a strike of the locomo-tive engineers and thereby carry their strike, as this is a last resort. A monster mass meeting of every miner in Alabama has been called for Monday as a result of the failure of the joint conference of miners and operators yesterday.

SEIZED A TRAIN.

Commonwealers Take Charge of a Freight Train in Illinois. Freight Train in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., June 12.—Official information was received here at 4.20 o'clock this afternoon that a fast train on the Louis-ville, Evansville and St. Louis Consolidated railway had been forcibly seized at Fairfield by a band of fifty men, calling themselves Coxeyites. The train was en route from St. Louis to Louisville, and the men demanded passage to the latter place. Blueford Wilson, solicitor of the road, went before Judge Allen, in the federal court, reciting the above facts and swearing that the mayor of Fairfield had been applied to for aid to rescue the train, but had refused, and that the sheriff of the county was absent from Fairfield. As the road is under the receivership of James H. Wilson and E. O. Hopkins, Judge Allen at once issued an order directing United States Marshal Brinton to proceed to Fairfield and take such measures as are necessary to rescue the train from the commonweaters. Deputy Marshal Westfall has gone to Fairfield and should he require assistance will swear in deputies there.

ALL QUIET AT CRIPPLE CREEK. The Victor Mines Resume Work-The

Militiamen Returning Home.

Oripple Creek, Coio., June 13.—No trouble has occurred over the opening of mines this week. Most of the agitators have left the camp. The Victor mine resumed operations today, and now over twenty mines are litt-ing ore. This afternoon 250 militiamen of the Second regiment escorted twenty-five prisoners to Colorado Springs, via the Chey-enne Canon road, and the soldiers will then return home. The signal corps and the arthiery, with the exception of a Gatling gun and five men, started to Denver today. General Brooks will hold thirty members of each company as a reserve guard and will dismiss the remainder soon. The travel in the camp is now very heavy and business has become lovely. GOING TO ALABAMA.

Chattanooga Negroes Have Been Secured to Replace Miners.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 13.—(Special.)— A party of 200 negroes left this city yes-terday to go to the Birmingham coal disterday to go to the Birmingham coal dis-trict, where they will take the places of the striking miners. Harry Hargroves, the agent of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway Company, has been in this city after the negroes. An agent has also been en route to the mines. The Chattanooga darkies seem anxious to go to Alabama, and do not fear violence at the hands of the miners. More will leave in a few

The Second Congressional District of Alabama Promises Fun Soon

Montgomery, Ala., June 13.—(Special.)— The Jeffersonians in this, the second, con-gressional district of Alabama propose to make a very vigorous fight for the next representative in congress. This is one of the largest and most important districts in the state, containing the counties of Mont-gomery, Pike, Butler, Crenshaw, Coving-ton, Conecuh, Escambia and Baldwin, and running from almost the center of the state to the gulf of Mexico. The combined opposition to the organized democracy has selected one of its strongest men to make the race for congress in this district—Hon. the race for congress in this district—Hon. W. S. Reese, of Montgomery. Colonel Reese was for several terms the democratic mayor of Montgomery and it is acknowledged the city has never had a better one. In 1892 Colonel Reese was interested in Captain Kolb's candidacy and became idetified with the reform movement. If had not gone astray it is not improbable, that the democrats would have showered congressional honors upon him.

Stewart from the senatorial race leaves the field open and alone to Colonel J. B. Bussey, of this city. He is a sterling young democrat, the genial and popular court stenographer of this judicial circuit and also a lawyer by profes sion. For the house the sad termination of the candidacy of Mr. Thomas Stevens in having his mind unbalanced, and his subsequent trial for lunacy and being sent to asylum, the withdrawal name of Captain H. Crittenden, who declined to who claimed the announcement of his can-didacy as unauthorized, left the field open to Mr. B. H. Lester, who announces as a democrat and wants endorsement in the democratic primary, but who has announced his intention of supporting the third party nominee for governor. This, of course, did not set well with the democrats. They went to work and approached several prominent democrats, but they didn't seem to have any political aspirations.

Yesterday a meeting of the democrats of the county was called in Cutt-bert for the purpose of drafting a man. Mr. I. A. Martin, of Shellman, was named by the meeting. THE MEETING SLOW IN ITS WORK.

Other Railrad News Scattered Here and There—The Grocers' Picnic at Tal-lulah Falls Yesterday.

New York, June 13.-The members of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association were very late in getting together in the Waldorf this afternoon for the second day of their meeting. It was nearly noon executive board to order and asked for the report of the subcommittee which had been appointed yesterday to consider the question of rates. The reports were not ready and the committee adjourned until 10 o'clock. The full convention of the association, constituted of presidents or traffic managers, and in some cases of both, of all the rail-roads and steamship lines, was then called

The convention was in session only a few minutes when an adjournment was taken minutes when an adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. No cause was assigned for this action, but it is understood that it was on account of many matters, especially those looking to the restoration of rates, which the executive board has not been able to agree upon and which it is hoped would be in better shape for the full convention when it meets tomorrow tomorrow. The question of contracts for next year was considered today. This is the rock on which the different lines usually split. It was said that while there is something that very nearly approaches harmony among the railroad managers in regard to through rates, there is much difficulty in preparing a schedule of local rates that will satisfy every one. The executive board met again at 1:40 o'clock, but only remained in session a few minutes when an adjournment was taken until 3 o'clock. It is expected that the subcommittee on rates will submit its report at the meeting this afternoon.

Promptly at 3 o'clock the executive board again met, but the rate committee was not ready to report and general discussion on routine matters pertaining to the association followed. Nothing of any importance transpired up to a late hour this after-noon and it is doubtful if the executive board can complete its labor today. The time of the board today between the numerous adjournments that were taken was, it is said, taken up with discussing the action of several of the roads that have not paid their assessments to the as

The Committee's Report.

Considerable liveliness was introduced in to the meeting of the executive board late this afternoon when the subcommittee appointed to take up the restoration of rates and the cancellation of existing contracts field its report, and not a little harmonious feeling manifested itself when the report, which was in the form of a resolution, was offered for discussion. Here is the report "To the Executive Board-Your committee appointed to take up the restoration of rates and the cancellation of contracts begs leave to report that it has investigated the subject sufficiently to determine that because of existing contracts, made by the receiver of the Central Railroad of Georgia it is not practicable to advance the tariff rates made effective on the 22d instant be fore the 31st of July, though there is noth ing to prevent the maintenance of these rates for that period without further reduc-

"Your committee considers it essential to the renewal of the association agreement for another year, that before the report of the special committee, to which this subject has been referred, shall be taken up and considered that each member present shall subscribe to an agreement form as follows:

We hereby agree, each for the transportation line he represents, that we will not enter into, authorize or ecome a party to any agreement, promise or intimation affecting competitive rates of traffic after August 1st next into, from or within the territory recognized as association terri-tory. Whereby we declare that we have not entered into any such contracts or agreements affecting rates or traffic after August 1st next, and so pledge ourselves not to enter into any such agreements extending the present or any other rates to July 1st; that the commissioner shall obtain as soon as possible the signatures to this agreement of the members not present at this meeting."

The committee further recommends that the commissioner be requested to withdraw the authority given by him to members of the association to enter into contracts ex-tending the present rates to July 31, 1894. The resolution to make no further contracts to July 31st at the present low rates was carried unanimously. The committee adjourned at 6.30 o'clock to meet again

The Grocers' Pienic.

The picnic of the retail grocers of Atlanta yesterday was one of the most de-lightful affairs of its kind ever enjoyed by the people of Atlanta who take an interest in such things.

The merry party left the city yesterday morning at 7:30 on a handsome special train run by the Richmond and Danville, and arrived at the beautiful brink of Tal-lulah at noon. The train was made up of ten passenger coaches and was loaded with 650 people. The trip was one of the most pleasant ever had by any party of picnickers from this city, and everybody who went came back rejoicing at the time they had in the blue-top mountains of the northern slope of the Empire State of the South. Leaving Tallulah at 5 o'clock in the after noon, they reached Atlanta promptly at so'clock, and were greeted by their friends who went down to meet them promptly at the schedule hour-something that seldom happens with jolly picnic parties of this description. The train was in charge of J. M. Coster, the well-known engineer, and Joe Nesbitt, one of the best conductors that ever swung himself down on the bell cord to stop or start a train. Captain A. Ram-sour, master of trains of the Richmond and Danville at this city, was in control of the party, and the officials of the Rich mond and Danville simply excelled them-selves in the management of the trip to

Mounted Policeman Tom Barrett took a day off vesterday to look for a north Georgia murderer. A grocer's clerk says he took a picnic instead. Officer Barrett was suspended by the chief for investigation last night.

About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon John Lacewell, a young man who is employed as a clerk for Mr. Karwisch, the Manietta street groceryman, called on Chief Con-nolly and told a story. He said that Officer Barrett had been in Mr. Karwisch's store for several hours and had been sending out to a neighboring saloon for beer, of which be had particken quite freely. He said that quite a lively party had assembled with the officer and they had made merry for quite a long while, the beer being the strongest factor in the amusement.

He had made objection, and had finally refused to allow any more beer to be sent in. People passing by had noticed the hilarity, amounting almost to disorder, and had commented on it. One of the parties present had given Clerk Lacewell a neat mark on the left side of the face, about as big as a dollar. Mr. Karwisch was absent, at the grocers' picnic, and Lacewell said he was trying to martian order.

After listening to Lacewell's story Chief Connolly immediately sent for Acting Captain Slaughter. That officer was unfer the impression that Officer Barrett was on duty. He was sent to Karwisch's store to make an investigation at once. He did not find Officer Barrett there.

Officer Barrett reached police headquar-ters about 5 o'clock in a perfectly sober condition. He made a statement to Chief Connolly in which he said that he sot permission from Acting Sergeant Hamilton to go off duty at 10 o'clock. He denied the charge of having been drunk, and said that the whole of Lacewell's story was untrue.
"I went to the store a little after if o'clock and stayed there until after 1,' said he. "We had some neer, but everything was perfectly quiet. I got off to meet a young man from Nelson, Ga., who was coming down to give me some information about a murder case. I went from the depot, after the train came is, to Mr. Karwisch's store. One of the employes asked me to remain at the store for him about an hour, which I iid. Acting Sergeant Hamilton made a repor to Chief Comoily in which he stated that he had refused to let Officer Barrett off yesterday morning, telling him that he would have to speak to Acting Captain Slaughter. WARM POLITICS IN SAVANNAH, Both Factions Claim a Victory-The "Scrap" Meetings.

Savannah, Ga., June 13.—(Special.)—Today has been a day of reckoning with the politicians. They have done nothing all day but discuss last night's disgraceful scenes at the mass meetings. The Daily Dispatch, the organ of the Citizens' Club, comes out today and claims a victory in every dis-trict for its ticket for executive committee-men, while a matter of fact there is not a district in which there is not a contest be-tween the two factions.

A statement was made in The Dispatch with regard to Mr. S. B. Adams endeavoring to make a speech for harmony in the fourth district. According to Mr. Adams's views, the statement was not correct, and it is said that this afternoon he went over to the office of that paper and denounced the author of the statement as a contemptible

Week-A Most Delight Place-Some

Athens, Ga., June 13.—(Special.)—One reads in papers published throughout the country of numbers of schools advertised as places possessing all the advantage of intellectual cultivation, with the comforts and the gentle influences of a school, and a great many of us have visited such places to find them excellent in their way, but leaking that much advertised home. but lacking that much-advertised home atmosphere, which is so hard to impart to public institution. A graceful woman, with an adorable face met me on the wide wistaria covered veranda, which surrounds the stately old-fashioned building. This was Miss Mille Rutherford. Every one in the south knows her, but those who have not met her face to face cannot conceive of the grand character, marks of intelligent strength and gentleness which reveal in her finely chiseled features the sincere woman devoted to her work and true to her loftlest ideals. After meeting her, I was intro-duced to her corps of teachers, and then went in the house with one of them to house, built by Thomas R. R. Cobl in 1858, fully convinces one that we can find nothing more excellent in modern architecture than our grandparents dis-covered when they built a square, colonial nouse with wide hallways and great airy rooms, whose dignified comfort were not essened by bay windows and all sorts of architectural irregularities. The hallway and big doors. On the right is the drawing room, an elegant place richly furnished and ornamented with a number of the beautiful paintings which Mr. Seney donated to the institution. Two wide doors, ornamented above with richly carved ma nogany panels and hung with handsome curtains, leads into the library, the most delightful room of all. Here are half a dozen bookcases filled with the very best books that could be chosen for young people. An elegant old-fashioned mahogany table, with lion's claw legs, sits laden with the best current magazines and papers in the center of the room. The carpets are bright and in charming harmony with the rich paper, which contains that soft shade of pinkish yellow which is so becoming a background and so useful to the eyes. There are vases of flowers on the mantel and great easy chairs, plenty of them, about the room near the deep windows that open upon the

The sitting room opposite the parlor is another picture of comfort with its leather lounge and chairs and interesting family portraits. Here, too, are prettily placed or hung a number of photographs of former oupils, girls who seem to smile a welcome and an assurance of happiness to all who have come after them.

These front rooms are divided from the back bedrooms by a cross hallway, and one who is assigned to one of these down stairs sleeping apartments enjoys from her window a picture of quaint southern sereni-ty which I never dreamed of seeing with my fin de siecle orbs. There Are Many Retainers. Beyond this kitchen there are several brick servants' houses, and I must say that I have not seen outside of Thomas Nelson Page's stories so many respectful retainers of all sizes as this big place contains. It is "mistess" with the butler, too, and the same rever-ence and respect is shown by the many other servants on hand to add to the com-fort of the inmates of this beautiful home and their guests. All this will give you some slight idea of the place, its sweet comfort, its beautiful grounds, with flowers and shrubbery, and its real heart-meaning, but it is impossible for me to convey on paper the home atmosphere, the hold-in look of every nook and corner on the place.

Her triumph was certainly well deserved, and all who heard her were proud of Atanta's representative.

Miss Patti Jones, of Albany, won another elocution prize. She is a fascinating rather than a strictly beautiful girl, and in the recitations she has a compelling magnetic influence and attraction. Her lithe arms and slim, artistic hands are full of dramatic ex-on and unconscious grace, Miss Sallie Speer won the third elocution medal. She is a piquant little sophomore, with a mass of nut-brown hair that forms background for her mobile face with its bright, wide-apart eyes and riant mouth.

Of a number of the other girls, their tricks and manners I shall tell your more in Sunday's paper when I shall have some-thing to say of many other things relating to my visit to the Lucy Cobb. MAUDE ANDREWS.

AN EXCELLENT PROGRAMME. Tonight the Graduating Class of the

'Goodnight"-Wyman-Piano, Miss Lov-Stilesboro High School Closes. Stilesboro, Ga., June 13.—(Special.)—Theommencemnt of the Stilesboro High school is in progress. The exercises from the be-ginning have been uniformly successful. This is the thirty-fifth year of the high school work in Stilesboro. The people are proud of their school and intend to make it second to none in the land. Rev. J. B. Gambrell, of Mercer university, preached the commencement sermon and captured the crowd by his sensible, plain and forceful style of preaching. It was a grand sermon in many respects.

The champion debate was most interesting. The debaters were: T. B. Puckett, salutatorian, J. G. Colbert and J. W. Jackson, negative; and J. L. Davis and P. R Masters, affirmative. Question

That the world grows better."

Rev. Mr. Harrell made an extremely in teresting and instructive address before the Henry Grady and Amasorian societies. His address was many times complimented. The exercises closed tonight with a concert.

POLITICAL POSSIBILITIES. All Over the State the Pot Appears to

Be "Biling." Clayton, Ga., June 13.—(Special.)—Rabun county has not been so warm politically since the days of Emory Speer.

First, the gubernatorial campaign is waging fierce and hot, and when the primary is held on the 22d of this month it will be a close vote, with the chances slightly in favor of Evans. For the senate from this, the fortieth, dis

For the senate from this, the fortieth, district, Towns, under the rotation plan, has the naming of the candidate and has about settled on Dr. W. H. McClure, of Hiwassee. For the house we have only five candidates, so far, but the returns are, probably, not all in. John M. Massengale, former representative, is now in the field, contesting with M. W. Snofford, H. C. Blalock and W. E. Powell, all democrats, for the office, and all will submit their claims to the primary of June 22d, and the successful one will then have to cross swords with Abe Keener, the third party candidate. At any and under all events, you can put old Rabun down in the democratic column.

Ten Mile Cycle Race. sville, Ky., June 13.—There were sev-bree starters out of eighty-three en in the Martin and Dressing ten-mile race this morning. It was ween by John Spalding, of Louisville, in twenty-eigh minutes; E. J. Daubert second and G. P. Miller third. E. V. Miner, of Indianapolis won first course prize in 26.54, and H. M. Sedwell, of Covington, Ky., second. Both times break the world's record for ten mile.

Will Make the Race.

Gainesville, Ga., June 13.-Colonel Fletch M. Johnson, a prominent young lawyer of this city, has "shied his castor into the ring" and will make a home run for the legislature. Colonel Johnson is brainy and aggressive and when the populists of Hall county name their candidates for the lower house of the general assembly there will be music in the air, provided they tackle this The Evidence Against Him

Carrollton, Ga., June 13.—(Special.)—H. H. Silas, a negro preacher, who was recently arrested charged with being an accomplise of Harry Washington in holding Mr. W. A. Maxwell up near his residence at Villa Rica, and relieving him of some $400 or $500, had; preliminary trial yesterday. He was dismissed for want of evidence.

An Attempted Suicide.

Baconton, Ga., June 13 .- (Special.)-About six weeks ago a white woman, forty years of age, calling herself Mary Cox, was of age, calling herself Mary Cox, was brought from the Home for the Friendless in Macon by a family of DeWitt, Ga., to cook for them. During this time she has shown unmistakable signs of mental derangement, and several times has been heard to threaten suicide. This threat was carried into execution some time during Monday night, and Tuesday morning she was found lying in an unconscious condi-tion from morphine. A physician was speed-ily summoned and every effort made to relieve her. A letter written by her says that she has been going under an assumed name. She will probably die.

Wayne County's Consolidated Vote. Jesup, Ga., June 13 .- (Special.) - After con solidating the returns of the primary elec-tion held Saturday, the following vote is the result: Atkinson, 301; Evans, 70; Clif-ton, 294; Candler, 36; Nesbitt, 360. The re-mainder of the statehouse officers were nominated. Henry G. Turner received the unanimous vote for congress. Funeral of Colonel George Cuthbert, Ga., June 13.—(Special.)—The remains of Colonel Alfred M. George, of Eufaula, Ala., were brought to Cuthbert yesterday and interred in the Western cer

SENIOR DAY OCCURRED YESTERDAY.

Mr. D. T. Thomas the Salutatory in Greek. Medals, Degrees, Speeches and Athletics-College Notes.

Oxford, Ga., June 13 .- (Special.)-This was senior day and the culmination of the commencement festivities at Emory college. The college chapel was packed to its utmost capacity with the flower of Georgia's youth and beauty, and it was an enthusiastic audience which greeted the speakers as they took their seats.

The opening prayer by Dr. T. R. Kendall was eloquent and touching.

Mr. D. Y. Thomas delivered the salutatory in Greek. Just what he said has not been determined by your humble correspondent at the present writing. How-ever, his delivery was unusually good, and the audience seemed to appreciate his sen-

Wat H. Milner soared into "the universe of the small," performed some graceful oratorical feats and finally alighted amid the vociferous applause of the audience and the flowers of numerous feminine addirers.

Dr. Candler was most happy in his matchless address upon "The Possibilities for Future Development in the College Graduate." Dr. Candler is one of Geor-gia's most honored sons, an eminent divine, profound scholar and deep thinker. His address was eloquent, instructive and far-reaching in scope and theme.

Thirty-five stalwart young men, with well-trained minds and sound bodies, step-ped forth from old Emory's portals today to enter the battle of life and prove their worth in the struggles of the future:
Probably the most interesting feature of the commencement exercises was the champion debate, which took place on Tuesday night. The question was: "Resolved, That colonization is the best solution of the negro problem

For the affirmative side of the question the speakers were J. F. Morris, S. P. Wiggins and J. W. Moore, of the Phi Gamma Society. The negative side was represent-ed by J. F. Colston, Marvin Williams and W. H. Budd, of the Few Society. The batthe was hot and heavy, and superb work was done on both sides, but the Fews finally succumbed to the Phi Gammas, and the decision was given in favor of the latter. The committee of judges was com-posed of Hon. Hiram P. Bell, Dr. T. R. Kendall and Professor W. F. Wright. After the debate the annual medals

Ellis (this medal was $10 in gold); the junior natural science medal to C. C. Smith; the medal for metaphysics to R. L. Ellis. The Johnston essay prize of $25 in gold was won by D. Y. Thomas.

Emory college conferred the degree of D.D. upon the Rev. J. O. Andrws, of Al-abama, and upon Rev. Walker Lewis, of Atlanta. Bachelor of Laws was conferred upon Professor Tomlinson Fort and A. M.

As a University Town.

Oxford is an ideal university town. Quiet, healthful and blessed with a society notable for culture and refinement, the purity for culture and refinement, the purity of its moral atmosphere and the influence of life in its ideal homes are considerations and advantages which are scarcely flyaled anywhere in the south. The hospitality of Oxford is unequaled, even in

'ole Virginny." Bishop Haygood, for mny years president of the college, is one of those genial southern gentlemen of the old school whom southern gentlemen of the old school whom to know is to love, and whose friendship is an honor. He is the type of the best citizenship of the south—a high-minded, chivalrous gentleman, of firm and temperate mind, courteous and amiable, of scrupulous honor and unswerving loyalty to his convictions of duty. Bishop Haygood has Durchased a beautiful grove adioining the college campus and will build soon, making Oxford his home for the future. Athleties.

More attention has been paid to athletics here for the past three months than at any previous time. The young men have ample opportunities for physical development in a splendid gymnasium and on an extensive lawn. The gymnasium is fully equipped with a fire selection of appliances equipped with a fire selection of appliances for the development of brawn and muscle, at a cost of $1,000. This includes hot and cold baths. T. F. Brown, professor of athletics in the University of Tennessee, devotes three days of each week to training the boys who desire to thus employ their leisure time. The board of directors deem it best to prohibit intercollegiate games, but the extensive campus affords a superb ball ground, and the nine and team are privileged to enjoy these innocent sports to the full bent of their inclinations. The Oxford college team will play the Athens university Friday. The team is quite a strong one, and a glorious victory is con-fidently anticipated. On Monday after-noon an athletic exhibition was given in the gymnasium before a large and appre-clative audience. Quite a good record was made. A pole vault of eight feet five inches was made by Mr. Fred Morris. A running high jump of five feet four inches was made by Mr. J. D. Boyd. Mr. Boyd also made a running high kick of eight feet one inch. Mr. Marion Thrower made a standing high jump of four feet seven inches. He also made a standing broad jump of nine feet ten and one-naif inches. inches.

Athletics are on quite a boom at Emory, and next year will probably develop some excellent work in this line.

Oxford is allive and teeming with the beauty and the brilliancy of Georgia's daughters. There are pretty girls galore. Wesleyan university is most creditably represented by a bevy of charming firls, who are creating quite a furore, and the Adelphian and Philomathean badges which adron the lapels of many Oxford con's attest the favor in which the Emory boys are held. The Visitors. are heid.

Professor Bradley, and is receiving marked attention.

Miss Florrie Henderson, of Covington, is a prominent and favorite belle; in fact, she well merits the consideration of being the handsomest young woman in *south Georgia. She is tall and statuesque, her hair is the color of ripe wheat and her complexion is infantile in tint and texture. Dame Rumor says that Miss Henderson has threatened to commit matrimony and that a certain Atlanta man is to be the happy victim.

Miss Carrie Haygood, of Kirkwood, is visiting her uncle, Bishop Haygood. She is working sad havoc among the ooys with her beautiful, fathomless thek eyes. Among the prominent visitors attending the final exercises are Dr. Tignor, of Columbus; Rev. J. B. McGhee, of the South Georgia conference; Rev. Mr. Wade, of Miss Ruth Sanders, of Monroe, has at least captured one masculine heart during her brief stay among the boys.

The State Woman's Missionary Scriety will meet here on the 20th of June, and a large attendance is anticipated.

Endorsements of Mr. Garrard.
From The Columbus Enquirer-Sun.
Many endorsements from distinguished sources have come to Hon. Louis r'. Garrard of his valuable services to the national democracy, and it will not be amiss to give some of them to the puolic during the present senatorial campaign, in which he appears to be the leading candidate.
Hon. John E. Russell, of Massachusetts, writing under date of December, 8, 1893, said:

Hon. John E. Russell, of Massachusetts, writing under date of December, 8, 1893, said:

"My Dear Mr. Garrard—I am very glad to hear from you, and look upon it as a renewal of the acquaintance so well begun last Jure at the convention I can never forget the great service you there rendered the country and the party. The declaration that we recommend the repeal of the tax on state bank currency was put in by you, and I see that Georgia stands by it. Your active work in support of our position in regard to trusts and combinations was important, and if I remember aright you wrote the land plank.

"With great respect and regard, truly yours, JOHN E. RUSSELL."

The following came from the eloquent Virginia statesman:

"Lynchburg, Va., November 18, 1892.—1 ouis F. Garrard. My Dear Sir—The state bank tax repeal helped us. No doubt of this to my mind. "I congratulate you on the success of your liea. Yours most truly, "JOHN W. DANIEL."

Colonel Charles H. Jones, now managing editor of The New York World, then editor of The St. Louis Republic, and chairman of the subcommittee on platform at the Chicago convention, wrote the following: "The St. Louis Republic Editorial Rooms, July 2, 1892.—Hon. L. F. Garrard. Columbus, Ga.: Dear Sir—I wish you would write an article for The Republic vindicating from your point of view the demand for the repeal of the tax on state banks.

"As this plank was put in the democratic platform as the result of your advocacy, I think an article from you would command attention and do good. Write at least a column, stating explicitly that the plank was put in on your urgency, and giving the reasons that induced you to urge it, and which have led to the demand for it on the part of the Farirer's Alliance and other industrial organizations. Chief Connolly Makes Some Changes and ment-Other Police Notes.

M. S. H. King, the gray-bearded prisoner at the police station, who is charged with forging a $4,500 paper, is a cousin and an adopted brother of H. Clay King, the once distinguished lawyer of Memphis, Tenn., who figured in the sensational tragedy in that city four years ago.

who figured in the sensational tragedy in that city four years ago.

His career has been a varied one, and he was raised with excellent advantages. He talks of Cononel H. Clay King as his brothes. According to his statement he was reared by the father of the Memphis man. He spent his early manhood in Franklin county and was educated in Alabama.

"There is a strong family resemblance between every member of our family," said the prisoner yesterday. "Four times in my life I have been arrested at different places because the officers thought I was some other member of my family. Clay is four years older than I am."

Mr. King was much quieter yesterday than on the night of his arrest. He characterizes the charge against him as false and as an effort to get hold of some property that should properly that should properly that should properly in the should properly that should properly that should properly in the should properly that should properly that should properly that should properly in the should properly that should properly that should properly in the should properly in the should properly that should properly in the should properly that should properly in the should properly the should properly in the should properly in the should properly the should properly in the should properly in

Changing the Policemen The following changes ordered by Chief

Connolly will go into effect today:

Mounted Officer George Hamilton is appointed mounted sergeant in the absence of Mounted Sergeant Mike White.

Patrolman Coker is appointed to the place left vacant in the mounted department by Officer Conn, who becomes chief of the county police. Mounted Officer Hudson exchanges places with Patrolman Stallings, of the evening watch.

Officer Henry Abbott goes from the morning watch to the mounted department, in the place of Officer Bone, who takes Abbott's place.

Recommends a Pension Fund.

Recommends a Pension Fund.

In his June report Chief Connolly touches upon a topic which is of interest to every member of the police department. It is on the subject of pensions for the veteran policemen. The chief says:

"I would suggest the advisability of recommending the council to establish a pension fund for the purpose of helping old and disabled officers of the department who have spent the best years of their lives in the faithful performance of their duties, protecting the lives and property of our citizens.

protecting the lives and property of our izens.

"They have such a fund in other cities, out of which members of the force who have grown old in the service are paid so much per month. If the council will appropriate, say $2,000, next year for this purpose, and $1,000 per year thereafter the fund can be established and I am satisfied that it will be a move in the right direction.

Arrested in Macon.

Detective Holcombe left for Macon yesterday afternoon to bring back to Atlanta a man named C. Peterson, who is wanted on a charge of larceny after trust. Peterson is accused by one of the demi-monde, who called on Chief Connolly yesterday with the funds necessary to defray the expense of having Peterson brought back. The chief wired to Macon and Peterson was under arrest in a short while. He is from Chicago fermerly. The amount involved is $20.

Savannah, Ga., June 13.—(Special.)—Frank Simon, the white man who was arrested some time ago as being implicated with the woman, Lily Fox, in robbing a couple of Hindoos, and who was released for want of evidence against him, was rearrested today and found with pawn tickets and express receipts for the goods in his pockets. He receipts for the goods in his pockets. He had attempted to ship the goods to Charleston, those of them he had not pawned. The detectives took all of them from the pawnshop and from the Southern express office and sent him to jail. There was about $400 worth of silk dresses, handkerchiefs and oriental embroideries. Simon is highly connected in Birmingham, Ala. He says he has been in many a scrape, but this is the first time he was ever charged with stealing.

ATLANTA, GA., June 14, 1894.

The Facts in the Case.

The Washington Post, in the course of an editorial article discussing the result of the Fulton county mass meeting. makes the following remark:

A perusal of the original amendment and the substitute will convince the most skep-tical that the administration met with a crushing rebuff at the hands of the Fulton democrats. county On the other hand, The Boston Herald, referring to the same matter, has

At a democratic mass meeting down Georgia, presided over by Editor Howell, of The Atlanta Constitution, the wisdom, pa triotism and courage of Grover Cleveland were enthusiastically endorsed. The At-lanta Constitution should ponder this and inwardly digest. Here one distinguished editor declares that the administration has "met with a crushing rebuff," and another editor equally distinguished, hints that The Constitution has received a severe blow in the midriff.

This misunderstanding about the result of the Fulton county mass meeting is a very grave one. Both of the dis tinguished editors give a wrong interpretation to the resolutions adopted and this misinterpretation is solely due to the fact that a certain element in this state, as vociferous as it is insignificant, has sought by every means in its power to make it appear that every democrat who stands on the Chicago platform and demands the redemption of its pledges is an enemy of the democratic administration. The purport and intention of the Fulton county resolutions have been interpreted abroad because their author and mover rose in the meeting and vehemently declared that an amendment substituting an unqualified endorsement of Mr. Cleveland's financial policy was a repudiation of the democratic administration.

There has been a tremendous effortand it has not been lacking in shrewdness-to obscure the real issue in Georgia. It has been accompanied with a good deal of noise and a considerable display of fireworks, but the scheme has about sputtered out. The peoplethe true democrats—the men who believe in party harmony-have at last son through it, and they are gradually making their influence felt in the interests of party harmony and party success.

In the eleventh district, the people have beheld the spectacle of little backroom meetings denouncing The Constitution. The moment they began to inquire into the animus of these denunciations, the whole scheme became transparent. Why should a democratic newspaper be denounced at democratic meeetings? Simply that the real issue might be obscured. The Constitution had planted itself on the Chicago platform; it had differed from Mr. Cleveland's financial policy as far as that policy had been made manifest; it had demanded the redemption of all the pledges made to the people; it had been outspoken in behalf of the free coinage outlined in the platform-therefore, The Constitution was to be made a victim-was to be denounced as undemocratic. The scheme succeeded very well until the people, who are always slow to move, saw through these machinemade denunciations, and discovered that they were not really aimed at The Constitution, but at the financial policy pledges in the platform.

As it happens, the best opportunity the whole state has had of getting at the true inwardness of the whole scheme from beginning to end was furnished by the Fulton county mass meeting last Saturday. And the opportunity came when the amendment unqualifiedly endorsing the platform was furiously denounced as a repudiation of Mr. Cleveland. The original resolution contained as strong and as loyal an endorsement of Mr. Cleveland, personally, as language could make it, and this endorsement was not touched by the amendment. In fact, it met the hearty approval of the mover of the amendment and of every voter at the meeting. Notwithstanding this, it was furiously denounced as an attack on Mr. Cleveland and a repudiation of the democratic administration. What further evidence do democrats need as to the real nature of the scheme that has been on foot in Georgia to divorce the party from the financial pledge of the platform?

It is perhaps natural that The Washington Post, somewhat remote from the to believe that there is an anti-administration element in this state seeking to secure the condemnation of Mr. Cleveland and his administration. The spread of such misinformation has been a part of the scheme to which we have alluded. Under cover of it, the most sinister attacks have been made on the financial policy outlined in the platform pledge. The Constitution has been at no great pains to correct this species of misrepresentation. It knew that the whole scheme would be exposed in due time, and that the schemers would be caught in their own net. We take pleasure, therefore, in informing The Washington Post that the administration did not "meet with a crush ing rebuff at the hands of the Fulton county democrats." Mr. Cleveland was heartily endorsed, and so was the Chicago platform in all Its parts. We say now, as we have said before, that it is a malicious and slanderous attack on both Mr. Cleveland and his administration declare that an endorse. ment of the Chicago platforn is an attack on the president and a repudiation of his administration. Such a declaration is more than slanderous-it is an appeal to all the elements of discord. It is a factious demand for party demoralization at a time when the condition of the party and the emergencies before it cry im periously for harmony.

We may be sure that Mr. Cleveland has had no part in and no knowledge of the scheme that has been on foot in Georgia. It is as certain as anything can be that he is far above the methods that have been employed in his name and it is equally as certain that he would neither ask nor expect any loyal democrat to endorse an opinion of his that involves a sacrifice of principle or a repudiation of the Chicago platform. The scheme that has been on foot in Georgia to label platform democrats as enemies of the administration and antagonists of Mr. Cleveland is foolish and unpatriotic in its conception, and its success would be fatal to party har-

The Exposition and Our Workingmen. The exposition will be a great help to our workingmen. In comparatively a short time work should begin on the buildings and grounds of the exposition, and employment will be given to a large number of people. The outlook is growing brighter. The bill for a government appropriation has been favorably reported in the house and will probably be acted on by a senate committee tomorrow, with the chances decidedly in its favor.

The effect of the government's en dorsement will be to excite renewed interest and enthusiasm, and the enter prise will go ahead with a rush.

The exposition work will encourage capitalists to proceed with their contemplated improvements and it is quite likely that a building boom will start here in the fall and continue through next year. This will give employment to the workingmen now in the city. During our long depression many workingmen in Atlanta have been out of employment or working for very low wages, but this is the case in all cities, and there are fewer idle men in Atlanta today than in other cities of the same ze, though there are many more here than we like to see.

The exposition will make work not only on its own improvements but on those which will grow out of it and be stimulated by it. We have made a fair start in building operations for the summer, but there is not enough work to go round at present, and the busy season for our carpenters, bricklayers, masons, and other workers now idle, but ready and anxious to work, will not open in earnest until the exposition begins to take its preliminary shape. This cannot be long delayed, and our patient toilers will soon have their reward. Atlanta's era of good times is coming.

Contraction Here and Elsewhere.

A correspondent of The Charlotte Ob server gives some interesting points from a recent interview with Senator

The senator says that when he first went to Brazil as minister, that country was in a prosperous condition. The Brazilians had a currency that was neither abnormally inflated nor contracted. It was about such a currency as we had in the period after the war, when our greenbacks were worth about $1.40 to one of gold. With this currency the stores in Rio Janeiro did a thriving business, real estate sold readily at good prices, working people found employment at good wages and everybody was prosperous, except the idle and incapable. The situation was all that could have been desired until a new set of ministers decided to bring the currency to a gold basis. A lot of it was called in and destroyed. As the process of contraction went on times grew harder and harder. At stores where ten clerks had been employed the number was gradually reduced to eight, then six, then four, and then two. Real estate declined in value and was hard to sell at any price. Discontent increased with the hard times, and finally revolution and

All this reads like a chapter of our own history. Like causes produce similar results everywhere. The United States and Brazil both made the mistake of contracting their currency in order to get on a gold basis at a time when the two nations had proved by actual experience that they had just enough currency to meet the demands of legitimate business and a growing population. The disastrons contraction experiment of these two countries requires no elucidation or comment. We see its results everywhere around us in the shape of idle marts, deserted workshops, sufstorm-center in Georgia; should be led ate men clamoring for work or bread. fering women and children and desperSuch a financial policy will never be endorsed until we have a nation of fools, or a nation of serfs under the absolute or a nation of serfs under the abs domination of the gold shylocks.

Desperate Politics

The Macor Telegraph of yesterday had a letter from its Atlanta correspondent which contained the following paragraph:

Atlanta never has had any good feeling to ward the Central City and politicians and business men alike always like to have an opportunity to "rub it in" on their neigh-They think they have got one of thes opportunities now, and if ingenuity can ac-complish it, will rub it in with General Evans on Thursday. A torchlight procesfireworks are already ordered elebrate the event. It is not putting the Atlanta hatred of Macon too strongly in this contest to say that many would almost rather win Bibb county for Evans and lose him the nomination than to have Atkinson carry Bibb, for Mr. Atkinson is looked upon here as Macon's candidate, and to defeat him in Macon would be most intense

These absurd and slanderons statements will excite mingled amusement and indignation among sensible men, but The Telegraph even goes further in its disreputable and desperate attempt to excite local prejudice against Atlanta. It says editorially:

Our correspondent is merely a chronicler of the news. His report is sent on his own otion, without any suggestion whatever He reports the interest felt in the Bibb primary and the talk concerning it because they were the most interesting features of Atlanta's life yesterday.

light of this Atlanta man's repo f the feeling in Atlanta, the people o Macon ought to find it easier to understand the situation. If they permit themselves to be misled under cover of a sentiment far too sacred for the base uses of politics, they will find themselves objects of the brighter witted people whose motto is everything for Atlanta. We do not believe Atlanta's torchlight procession to celebrate the victory in Bibb of a candidate defeated in the state will ever proceed, for the lack of opportunity, but if it does the railroads ought to mak it cheap and easy for the Macon men wh gave the opportunity to march in the pro ession and help Atlanta rejoice over Ma on's defeat.

The story is manufactured out of the whole cloth.

Nobody in Atlanta ever heard before that Atkinson was Macon's candidate, and nobody has said a word about a torchlight procession to celebrate the expected result of the Bibb county primary.

During the whole campaign there has not been any development that is at all comparable to this infamous trick. Here we have, right on the eve of the primary, an effort to array Macon against Atlanta by leading the people of the former city to believe that Atlanta is against them. There is not a word of truth in the report, and The Telegraph knows it. If there ever was any unfriendly rivalry between the two cities it was long years ago, and that feeling was outgrown a long time ago. Atlanta is proud of Macon, and we have good reason to believe that Macon is proud of Atlanta. The people of the two cities are pulling together for everything that will help them and Georgia's welfare, and their good people will be quick to denounce any campaign falsehood intended to stir up bad feeling between them.

We know that the people of Macon take no stock in this malicious and silly yarn which The Telegraph is so indus triously circulating.

We can well afford to dismiss the mat ter, with the suggestion that The Telegraph is probably the only newspaper in Georgia that would have resorted to the dirty device of appealing to the local prejudices of its readers the day before the primary. The state would be in a deplorable condition if such methods should prevail. We should then see city and country against county, and every campaign would be decided by geographical lines and local feeling instead of by the principles that should control. Whether it is Evans or Atkinson, Atlanta salutes Macon and proposes to march with her hand in hand along the highway of progress.

The Latest Revolution. The revolution in Paraguay, last Saturday, beats the record. There was no bloodshed. Not a gun was fired, and the revolutionists did not find it necessary to raise an army.

The affair was admirably managed Three presidential candidates conspired with the secretary of war to remove President Gonzalez. When the president started to enter the building where congress was in session a small body of armed men surrounded him and demanded his resignation. The document was signed in a few minutes, and the ex-president was escorted to an outgoing steamer and shipped to Buenos Ayres. The vice president at once took the place of the exiled ruler, and nothing has occurred to disturb the peace The people, it is said, take very little interest in the matter.

Paraguay has a government and a constitution very much like ours, but when it is desirable to get rid of a pres ident the Paraguayans do not have to go through an impeachment trial. A few determined men get together and corner their objectionable ruler and make him step down and out. It is rather a crude way of administering government, but it seems to work very well in Paraguay. How such methods would pan out in other countries remains to be seen. In some republics the kidnaping of a president by his political opponents would be followed by a civil war.

The Railroads and Business

President Clark, of the New Haven railroad, explaining why the directors of that property have cut the regularly quarterly dividend from 21/2 to 2 per cent. says:

Our gross earnings for the last ten months have fallen off nearly 9 per cent and have not justified the last three quarterly divi-dends paid. The directors have drawn upon the company's surplus, hoping for an improvement in business June 30th will close the fiscal year, and, consequently, this dividend must be charged against another year's earnings.

Our directors are conservative and do not assume any larger wisdom about the fu-ture than their neighbors, but they do not anticipate a speedy resumption of commer-cial activity. There is no more accurate thermometer of the general prosperity than the gross earnings of railroads.

All the company's lines show the effect of the diminished output of New England factories, and it is the last 10 per cent gross that makes the greatest net, especially in passenger business. Expenses have been reduced, but cannot be made to correspond to the loss in gross receipts without impairing the usefulness of the road in servpairing the usefulness of the road in serv ing the public, and by reducing the wages of employes, neither of which our directors are ready to do, and, therefore, it is prudent to reduce the rate to the extent which the general prostration of business seems to nere is a statement that is worthy of some attention, for it shows that the railway managers are considering the financial situation more seriously than they have been in the habit of doing President Clark says that the gross earnings of the transportation lines form as accurate a thermometer as can be found of the general prosperity-a fact to which The Constitution called attention three months ago-and that a reduction in expenses cannot be made to correspond with the loss in receipts without greatly impairing the usefulness of the roads in serving the public. It seems prudent, therefore, says President Clark, "to reduce the rate to the extent which the general prostration in business seems to require.'

This justifies the comments The Constitution made some time ago on the protests of some of the managers against the rate-cutting that was going on in the west some time ago, showing that it was simply one of the results of the contraction of our currency to fit it to the single gold standard.

We should be glad to see President Clark go somewhat deeper into the subject, and show just how our present "sound and stable" currency has given enterprise, business, and the railroads a black eye.

THE FULTON DEMOCRACY.

Its Message to the People in This and Other States. The democracy of Fulton county in mass meeting assembled, offers its contin-med adhesion to those fundamental principles of free popular government, based on home rule and individual liberty, as de clared by the national democratic platforms from 1868 to 1802, vindicated by the people elections of 1876 and 1884, and gioriously illustrated in the leadership of Grover Cleveland, which gave, in 1892, control of the federal government and its legislation to the friends of the constitution and the untiring opponents of republican rulethe national democracy.

CONFIDING IN THE WISDOM, PA-TRIOTISM AND COURAGE OF PRESI-DENT CLEVELAND, and the in-tegrity of purpose on the part of his administration, that all those great principles of financial relief and civil reform, clearly set forth in the Chicago platform nd pivoted on reform in our system of custom house taxation, should have force and effect in the laws to be enacted by congress and in the conduct of every department of the government, WE UN-QUALIFIEDLY ENDORSE THE DEMO-CRATIC PLATFORM, AND CALL UPON THE ADMINISTRATION RIALIZE ITS PLEDGES INTO LAWS.

3. We believe that the only hope for a eturn of public prosperity, with relief to the people from the burdens and injustice of the long-continued administration of the government by the republican juryly, is in the success of the democratic party in the union, and that this success may not be in the least endangered, we would ig-nore any differences which may exist in nore any differences which may exist in those matters of deail involved in the sose matters of deall involved in the so-on of these great questions of economic and financial reform to which the national democracy is pledged, and defer and agreement thereon, to such time as will not hinder us in meeting the common enemy of constitutional government and the best interests of the whole country, weil as Georgia and the south.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

At the age of ninety-one Lawyer Carpen ter still practices in the courts of New York. He has never been sick a day and expects to practice for years to come.

The crowned heads of Europe seem to take a good deal of stock in life insurance. has just taken out a $200,000 policy on his life, but that is an insignificant investment compared with those of the other poten-tates. The late Emperor Frederick of Germany was insured for $4,000,000. The queer regent of Spain has her life insured for a large amount, in behalf of her two little daughters, following the example of her husband, whose death mulcted the various companies in which he was insured for $5,000,000. The life of King Leopold, of Belgium, is heavily insured, as is also that of usen Victoria. Some revolutionary changes seem to have crept over old England, seriously endangering the safety of the famous British constitution. When before was the time that everybody, but the disreputable Stigginses, did not throw up his hat and cheer when the prime mirister won the derby? when the prime minister won the derby? His victory was a victory for the whole country and established his administration, however shaky it might have been before. Now the victory of Lord Rosebery's horse, Now the victory of Lord Rosebery's horse, and his satisfaction over it, has awakened a storm of indignant protest. A prominent non-conformist minister has written a protesting letter to The London Chronicle, saying: "The premier's utterances are bound to further popularize an institution which is the most corrupt and most dangerous of our national life. The non-conformist conscience will not much longer tolerate a horse-racing prime minister." And The Westminster Gazette thoins that the letter expresses the opinions of an element strong enough to hurt the liberal minister and his party from power. A GREEFING FROM GEORGIA.

MCWHORTER TO LAWSON. Judge McWhorter Replies to Judge

Lawson's Recent Card. Editor Constitution: The card of Judge Lawson, in your issue of the 12th instant, deserves passing notice. I did not see the "statement" that evoked his card, and am sure he nor any one else will say, or in timate, that I had any connection, directly or indirectly, with it. Judge Lawson wrete received on May 11th-and I replied thereto May 16th. Touching my reply, Judge Lawson in his card sees fit to say that "After explaining why he had not written earlier (an explana-tion altogether unsatisfactory) Judge Mc-Whorter said"—and then follows an extract

as indicateu in his card, on May 9th

from my letter.
I desire now to know of him in what par ticular my explanation was "altogether un satisfactory." satisfactory."

The time intervening from the 11th to the 16th was not of itself sufficiently long to require an explanation. Yet, to avoid the shadow of discourtesy, I informed him of the condition that then environed me. I explained the delay of five days in my reply, by socious that I had a descriptely sick by saving that I had a desperately sick child, which precluded any earlier reply. My little boy was taken sick on the 23d of April. He grew worse, and physicians were summoned on the 28th. He continue to grow rapidly worse, and lingered for nearly three weeks in a desperately precarious and distressing condition. 11th instant, when I received Judge Lawson's letter, I was in no condition, from the loss of sleep and mental strain, to consid-er it, and . had no heart to reply to it. For nearly a month-I transacted no business except such as could not be postponed, and this, in substance, was the explanation I made to Judge Lawson. The card in The Constitution was the first intimation from Judge Lawson that my ex-planation was "altogether unsatisfactory." On May 21st, after acknowledging my letter of May 16th, he wrote as follows: "I am sorry to be apprised of the severe illness of your son. I learn that you had postponed Wilkes court on account of his illness, but had no idea that his malady was of such a

There was no intimation then, or at any other time, that he considered my explana-tion extended, in the excess of courtesy, "al-together unsatisfactory." If, however, my explanation continues to Judge Lawson "altogether unsatisfactory," ne will have to bear the burden of his dissatisfaction until erous nature to the full appreciation the distressing ordeal through which I was then passing.

Judge Lawson further says: "As the correspondence has somehow leaked out," he therefore concludes that he is justified in oublishing it. I have no objection to its publication. While it did not "leak" from me, I did not understand it to be any profound secret, or so particularly private. I understood it to be an open proposition from Judge Lawson, which he did not consider against his interest, and to which he desired me to ac-I had not then decided to become a can-didate, nor did I then know that I would be, and I so wrote him, and consequently be, and I so wrote him, and consequently did not entertain his suggestion.

I presume, however, that the information given by your informant came from a different and altogether public source. Judge Lawson wrote Major R. H. Bullock, of Madison, the chairman of the democratic executive committee of the county, requesting the postponement of the selection of congressional delegates for that county from the postponement of the selection of congressional delegates for that county from the first Tuesday in June, as then fixed, to a future day. Major Bullock had heard that I was a probable candidate for congress, and he submitted Judge Lawson's petition to me, and in view of his request, I wrote Major Bullock as follows:

"Levington, i.a. May 21 1824 Hop. B.

The congressional convention has not yet been called, and I would not urge my friends, even were I a candidate, to press the selection of delegates at this early day, over the objection of any contemplate competitor, when time does not been essential. I am always in favor of a fair, open contest, and should I become a candidate, I will be perfectly content if my friends would insist only upon that method of selecting delegates as will best secure the fair and free expression of the party's choice

I apprised Judge Lawson of my letter to Major Bullock, and if this was not all that he could in reason ask, I would like to know the limit of his desire. A few days after this it was reported in

A few days after this it was reported in the newspapers that the friends of Judge Lawson in Jasper county had procured an endorsement of him by a mass meeting in that county. I have decided to become a candidate for the democratic nomination in the eighth district, and I have transmitted my resignation as judge of the superior courts of the Northern circuit to the governor.

cerned, I am perfectly willing to abide any plan that the democracy of the counties of the eighth district may adopt for the selec-tion of delegates to the congressional convention.

It is well for all to realize that in the eighth district, "no Chinese methods need apply," and to understand that the contest in this district will be settled by "an intelligent democracy," and in this I rejoice, for herein rests the safety of our established institutions, and the perpetuation of those principles which tend to the advancement and glory of our section. Yours truly HAMILTON MCWHORTER.

POLITICS IN GEORGIA.

Judge Hamilton McWhorter has tendered his resignation as judge of the northern circuit and has entered the race for congress in the eighth district.

The judge has written a letter to Governor Northen formally resigning, and that letter will probably reach the executive office this morning.

The action of Judge McWhorter will be no surprise to those who have watched the trend of political events in the eighth district. For some time Judge McWhorter's friends have been urging him to make the race for congress, but he was unwilling to take any steps toward doing so until he could wind up the business of the circuit, which he has done. This action gives Governor Northen another judge to appoint and the active ap plicants for the position are two very well known Georgians, Hon, John P. Shannon, of Elberton, and Hon. Seaborn Reese, of Hancock. Both are very well known and both are popular. Colonel Reese is a neighbor of Governor Northen's in Hancock county and they have always been warm personal and political friends. Colonel Shannon is one of the ablest young men in the state and a man whose friends are Both gentlemen will be in the city this norning and they and their friends will call on the governor. Colonel Shannon and a large delegation of prominent Elbert county gentlemen reached the city last night and several friends of Colonel Shannon from other parts of the state were at the hotels.

Among Colonel Shannon's ardent supporters who are here are Dr. N. G. Long, who will be a member of the next senate, Messrs. W. B. Adams, T. O. Taber, John P. Heard, P. P. Proffitt, P. M. Hawes, D. C. Smith, H. K. Gairdner, H. J. Brewer, L. H. O. Martin, John H. Jones, N. A. Swift, R. F. Wright, Rev. Dr. Grogan and others.

Today the governom will be called upon to exercise some judi-cial powers himself and decide as between two good men which shall hold the important office of judge of the northern circuita circuit which has been peculiarly for-tunate in having been presided over by some of the brightest legal lights that have shone in Georgia.

Editor McIntosh, of The Albany Herald, is inclined to think that the real race for the United States senator before the next legislature will be between Hon. Henry G. Turner and Senator Pat Walsh. "Why," he asks, "should Mr. Walsh be expected to lay aside the honor if he should find that his chances of being elected to the long term are as good as anybody's? He is under no promise or obligation to anybody to retire at the expiration of his present term, and if the legislature should elect him to fill out the unexpired term of Senator Colquitt, will this not itself give him a boost for the long term? The Herald to the senate and is for him against the field, but as his friend it is not laying the sweet unction to its soul that Mr. Walsh will be out of his way when the roll of the general assembly is called for the election. Few men in the state have more political friends than Mr. Walsh and there are fewer still who are better trained in the

The friends of Hon. A. C. Blalock, of Jonesboro, are urging him to make the race for the legislature to represent Clay-ton county in the next house. It is said that Captain Kimsey will not be a candidate for re-election, and in that event the friends of Mr. Blalock are urging him to become the standard-bearer of democracy. Speaking of Mr. Blalock a prominent Clay-ton county man said: "He is one of ton county man said: "He is one of Jonesboro's most prominent business men and with him it is clearly a case of the office seeking the man." MR. PORTER KING A POSSIBILITY, DOWN TWENTY FEET TO THE GROUND.

The Ex-Legislator Says that He May Be In the Race for the Mayoralty-His An-nouncement May Come Any Day.

The approaching race for mayor promise o be one of the most interesting political fights Atlanta has had in a long time. Three candidates will, more than likely, be before the people. In fact, there will be three, unless a convention or committee of one hundred make a nomination, as three gentlemen have either directly or indirectly announced themselves as in the race.

Hon. Harry Stockdell, the senior member of the general council from the second ward, has, long ago, announced that he would be in the race, and his campaign is now well under way, with a good organization be hind him

Colonel J. H. Seals has placed himself in the race, and this morning formally announces himself as a candidate for mayor. For some time past the name of Hon. Porter King has been mentioned as a candidate, but that gentleman has persistently declined to talk until yesterday, when it was almost authoritively announced that he would be in the race. Since his name was first connected with the mayoralty Mr. King's friends have been anxiously waiting to know whether he had given any authority for it or not

Mr. King, it is true, has made no formal announcement, yet it is more than probable that he will be a candidate for mayor, and that it will be a warm three-cornered fight, in which he, Mr. Stockdell and Colonel Seals will be the candidates.

Than Mr. King, Atlanta has no more popular or successful citizen. He has served the city in the council from the sixth ward and the county in the legislature, and in both positions his work has been most satisfactory.

When asked yesterday about his determin ation to enter the race, he said:

"I have been urged by some of the mos representative and leading men of the city to make the race, but up to the present time have not decided fully what I will do. The requests have been so flattering and kind that I have not been able to make up my mind to refuse-

"And it may be that I shall formally in form my friends shortly that I'll run. If the people of Atlanta want me to be their mayor, I should feel more than proud to accept the place, but I don't know that I care to go into any scramble for it. The other gentlemen and myself have been friends. We have many mutual friends who might be embarrassed. It is true though that the people responded kindly to my candidacy two years ago for the legislature, and if they now want me to enter the race for mayor I do not see how says: "Editor Constitution: From a recent in terview with myself which appeared in your paper, most of the citizens have regarded me as a candidate for mayor, but a great many did not so construe it and have im portuned me for my decision. To settle th matter. I hereby announce myself as a candidate, and shall enter fully and squarely into the race. The kindly expressions which have greeted me at every turn have been most gratifying, and I now solicit the support of the citizens generally. At an early day I will give my views in a public adcress. Respectfully, J. H. SEALS."

J. W. Dernick Arrested on the Charge of Assaulting a Woman. J. W. Dernick, a street car motorman, was arrested at his boarding house on Howell street at 1:30 o'clock this morning on a charge of assaulting Miss Smith.

Quite a sensational story led up to his arrest. Shortly after midnight a young man named Robinson, who resides about a half mile from the end of the West End car track, called at police headquarters and reported to Captain Moss that Dernick had attempted to outrage his sister-in-law, Mies Della Smith. Miss Smith lives in the same house with Robinson and her widowed

Officers were sent out and Dernick was arrested. He was exceedingly nervous over his night's adventure, and his right hand was in a fresh bandage from a glass cut. He put a new phase on the affair, Dernick said that he had been going to see Miss Smith for about two months, and paid one of his calls last night. Just before 9 o'clock, he says, two men called, and Miss Smith sent them away, saying that her sweetheart was present. A few minutes later, he declares, he was frightened within an inch of his life by the sound of pistol shots at the window.

Wenther Synopsis and Forecast. A glance at the weather map last night showed that the distribution of heat was very anomalous, the warmest section of the country being the northwestern states, and the Missouri valley. There, at 7 o'clock and the Missouri valley. There, at 7 o'clock p. m. last evening the mercury registered from 86 to 88 degrees, while it was down to 70 in eastern Texas, and in the 70's upon the immediate gulf coast. Yesterday was the warmest day in Atlanta this year, the miximum temperature registered 95 degrees in the shade, which was 5 degrees warmer than the preceding day. The cloud area, which was prevaient over the gulf states has spread itself to the northward and the entire country east of the Mississippi was covered by from partly cloudy to cloudy skies. The drought in most sections still remains unbroken, except in Texas, which state seems to be getting its quota lately. Throughout the afternoon thunder showers occurred in the Carolinas, Tennessee, northern Georgia and Virginia, Tennessee, northern Georgia and Virginia, Tennessee, northern Georgia and For Georgit today: Fair, probably slightly cooler in northern portion.

Colonel John H. Seals Makes a Formal Mr. Jim Perdue the Victim of a Bad Fail Last Night.

He Was Picked Up Bleeding and Unconscious and Carried to the Grady Hospital-How It Occurred.

In the dark area back of Folsom's Euro-pean hotel and the new block of buildings adjoining the Broad street bridge, Mr. Jim Perdue was found, bleeding and uncon-scious, just before 9 o'clock last night. He was found immediately in the rear of Vallace's saloon, and an open window twenty-five feet above him showed from whence he had fallen. How he came there—whether he threw himself out intentionally, fell out accidentally or was thrown out are questions that cannot be answered.

Engineer Edge, who runs the big engine in the basement of Folsom's hotel, went to a picnic yesterday, and was late going to his work last night. He crossed over the area way and went into the engine room, the entrance to which is not fifteen feet from where Perdue was found

The engineer passed the very spot where Perdue was afterwards found, and going into the engine room he left his coat. He then went upstairs and was gone just long enough to get a cup of coffee. When he came back he saw the dark form of a man stretched out on the ground.

He thought it was some drunkard who had wandered into the area and dropped off to sleep and he went out on the street and called Officer Moon. The two returned to the prostrate form and bending over him both recognized Mr. Perdue. His face was bloody and a fresh stream of blood was coming from his ears. His breath came coming from his ears. His breath came hard, and it was plain at a glance to see that he was seriously hurt.

The hospital ambulance was called and Perdue was sent to the Grady hospi-Dr. Brewster stated, after the injured man had been examined, that it was impossible to tell just how seriously he was hurt. There was little external evidence of injury, as the wounds were entirely internal. The hospital physicians believe that there is hope for recovery.

Mr. Perdue was evidently drinking yesterday afternoon. When he fell it is a ought that he was under the influence of whisky. Mr. Wallace, who keeps the saloon from the rear window of which Perdue had his ugly fall, could offer no explanation of how the affair happened. He did not see Mr. Perdue in his place prior to the accident at all. Mr. Perdue found his way into a back room of the saloon and evidently opened a window that is kept closed all the time. It is thought probable that he opened this to admit air. His hat was found on a box in this little room.

The theory of foul play was advanced last night and was looked into by the officers. It is known that yesterday morning Mr. Perdue got his fine gold watch from a friend who had been keeping it for him. The watch was not on his person last night. He is also said to have had some money or his person. None of the people in Mr. Wal-lace's bar saw any suspicious characters in the rear of the saloon, but as those in the bar were busy most of the time it is possible that such characters might have got in without being observed.

Mr. Perdue is about fifty years old. Engineer Edge, who found Mr. Perdue, says he had a talk with him yesterday morning and Mr. Perdue told him he was going off on the Seaboard Air-Line train to see his daughter graduate. "If I don't get off on that train, I'll kill

NEW FIRE SIGNALS.

Chief Joyner Has Instituted Another Set of Bell Taps. For several good reasons Chief Joyner has decided to change the signals that are generally made use of after the fire alarm is sent in Heretofore two taps of the big bell have indicated that is 11 o'clock, but hereafter this combination will mean "fire out." This was done to provide for certain emergen cles that might arise. When the bell taps one, the pressure at the waterworks is at once lowered. Should it happen that a big electric wire were to drop across the alarm wire, one tap of the big bell would be the result. This would relieve the pressure and it might prove disastrous before the water-works could be informed of the accident, if a big fire were in progress.

The following is the new code of signals: One tap at 11 o'clock, practice.

Two taps after an alarm, fire out. Three taps notify the department that an alarm by telephone has been received. Four taps after an alarm call nearest yagon not answering on first call.
Four taps repeated call next nearest

Five taps after an alarm call nearest en-Six taps after an alarm call nearest Flend Was Skinned Alive. Savannah, Ga., June 13.-(Special.)--Dispatches giving the mere statement of a negro's crime and his subsequent punishment were received last night from Blackshear, Brunswick and Wayeross. According to all accounts a negro assaulted the daughter of a well-to-do farmer, Mr. Mose Herring, near Blackshear. Having accomplished his purpose he fled, knowing what discovery would mean. He was soon captured and strung up. Before death could ensue from hanging he was taken down and literally skinned alive. It is said that ne lived six hours, dying in the most horrible agony. Another White Cap Convicted. Columbia, Miss., June 13.—Another white cap, wno participated in outrages in Marien county—Jaries M. Newman—was convicted today and the prisoner was remanded for sentence.

TO BE EXAMINED TODAY.—On the request of Chancelor Boggs, of the State university, professor William M. Slaton will, at 9 o'clock a. m., in the Boys' high school, begin the examination of cardidates for admission into the university. This will be a great convenience, saving the young men the expense of a trip to Athens and return.

TONIGHT YOU CAN HAVE A CHANCE

To Do So at the Fad Party at Ponce DeLeon.
It Will Be a Most Unique and Delightful Event-Everybody Should Attend.

Have you a hobby? Being human of course vou have. Every man, every woman and every child, young and old, has some fad, some hobby or some peculiarity which may be said to belong to this class. Everyboly who stops to think and to analyze his or her feelings must acknowledge this, and it won't take you a second thought to determine just

A fad party is the latest thing, and it promises to be the most delightful thing of its kind that has ever been known here. By that I mean the most delightful out-ofdoor entertainment, for it is to be given under the auspices of the ladies who have charge of the exposition at one of the most delightful places which can be found-Ponce de Leon Springs.

The fad party comes off tonight. From 6 o'clock until 9 o'clock the beautiful park at Ponce de Leon will doubtless be crowded with people, for the latest fad is this party and everybody will want a share in it. Yesterday morning the ways and means committee met at the springs and completed the final arrangements for tonight's affair. The grounds will be beautifully decorated, a band of music has been specially engaged to furnish music throughout the evening, delicious refreshments will be served and every appointment will be all that could be desired. There seems to have been no altogether clear understanding about what a fad party really is. It is not intended that those who attend shall go in fancy costume, but simpler devices are to be used to proclaim the special fads. Probably the most popular way of wearing the devices which will tell of the fads of the wearers will be for the ladies to wear them on their heads in the shape of unique hats or caps and for the gentlemen to wear them as bouton-

Already a great many characteristic suggestions have been made and a great many people are at work on some design, which each hopes will be unique and striking. The stamp fad, the autograph fad, the photographic fad, the tan shoes fad, the Tempest curl fad and almost anything else you can think of will be represented. Prizes have been offered for the most unique designs and the efforts of the judges to reach a decision will doubtless give rise to a great deal of merriment. The charge for admission is very small, only 25 cents for adults, while children will be admitted free. There will be refreshments of all kinds, ice cream, fruits, cake and everything of the sort, and no fancy prices will be charged. The refreshments have been in a great measure donated, and every bit of money taken in will go to the exposition fund.

Mrs. Hagan, as chairman, and the other members of the ways and means committee and those who have helped in arranging for this entertainment have spared no pains towards making it a success. And it is sincerely hoped that their first out-of-door effort to raise money for the exposition fund will be highly successful.

Professor Agostini to Help. Professor Agostini is to take a hand in aiding the woman's lepartment and adding to its fund. He has arranged for a series of entertainments to begin at Piedmon; park in July. Just what there will be has not been announced, but the ladies ask for 100 girls from the age of five to sixteen to take part. All who participate are to be given instruction in dancing free of charge. All who will take part are asked to be at the Rifle's armory, corner Marietta and Peachtree streets, Saturday morning

The Delegates to the Board of Missions Now in Session.

LAST NIGHT'S MISSIONARY MEETING.

The Work of the Board Closes Today and the Convention Will Formally Adjourn-Convention Notes.

The woman's board of missions, which has been in session at Trinity Methodist church for the past week, and which is one of the most efficient bodies of Christian workers in the country, will formally adjourn tonight.

Since their arrival in the city the delegates to this convention have made a lasting impression and their influence will remain behind them as incense in the homes which they have sweetened. The services last night were in the interest of the foreign missionary field. They were held in the lecture room of the church and were largely attended. There was not a vacant seat in the hall. Mr. W. P. Pattillo conducted the devetional exercises and offered a fervent prayer for the spirit of God to rest upon the meeting and to abide with the missionary in his labors for the salvation of the heathen.

After the singing of one or two gospel hymns, Dr. Lambert, the missionary of the board, was introduced to the audience, and delivered a brief charge to the successful candidates who had applied for admission into the foreign field. He referred to the need of Christian laborers and the need of consecration to sustain them in the great work for God and humanity.

The lecture of Dr. Lambert, which followed this brief talk, was the feature of the evening. He stated, among other things, that he belonged to a missionary family. His great grandfather was a local mission ary among the mountains of Tennessee. His grandfather was also an emissary of the cross; his father had spent thirty-nine years eross; his father had spent thirty-nine years of his life in China and Japan, and there he had been engaged for a number of years himself in the mission field. He discussed the deplorable condition of things in these countries and referred especially to the manner in which the women of the country were treated. They supported the ancestral religion and yet were openly abused and persecuted and treated as mere personal property. Christianity had secured a foot-hold in all of these heathen countries and it was the duty of the Christian church to send laborers into the field and to pray for the blessing of God to rest upon the work of the mis There will be a special meeting at the parsonage this afternoon at 4 o'clock to which all are invited who are interested in the subject of city missions. Dr. Lambert will make a short talk and a number of others will be made during the afternoon. The board will meet this morning at the

NEW YORK, June 13 .- Speculation at the Stock exchange today was confined almost exclusively to American Sugar and Chicago Gas. The first named ranged between 100% and 102% ex-dividend of 3 per cent, and closed at 101%. The stock was bought by the shorts, and the Havemeyer testimony that the company carned a profit of over that the company carried a past three years aided. Chicago Gas was in demand throughout, and a new pool was said to be buying. The stock moved up from 77% to 79%@79%. general list was characterized by firm ness and a higher range of quotations was established. The reported hitch in the set-tlement of the soft coal strike did not have any influence on the market, as traders were all disposed to take the long side of the account. They had in their favor the reduced gold export, an easier sterling exchange market and the recent successful placing of bonds by the Rock Island, St. Paul and Baltimore and Ohio roads. This, so the bulls claimed, indicates a revival of onfidence in railroad securities, and ought to lead to a broader and higher market for securities later on. Atchison was higher on the announcement that the plan of reorganization will be given out next week. The improvement in the railway list ranged from ¼ to 1% per cent. Burlington, St Paul, Atchison, Louisville and Nashville Missouri Pacific and New England were prominent in the rise. The market closed firm at or about the top figures of the day. Total sales were only 125,000 shares, of which 42 500 were American sugar, 19,000 St Paul and 13,000 Chicago Gas. Seventy-five thousand shares were listed and 50,000 un-

NEW YORK, June 13.—Foreign and Domestic News Company, by private wire to J. C. Knox, manager: Stocks were dull but firm in the closing hour. The strong features were Chicago Gas, Sugar and Burlington and Quincy and Atchison, the three former being in demand to cover short contracts. A continuance of the excessive manipulation in Sugar alarmed the smaller trading, but at the reaction from the early morning's advance supporting orders were again disclosed. The Camack brokers continued to buy Burlington and Quincy at any Closing Stock Review. again disclosed. The Camack brokers continued to buy Burlington and Quincy at any concession, and in the absence of any selling pressure from Boston accounts the stock was easily moved to a higher level. Chicago Gas was bid up by the Benedict brokers in the last half hour, on the official announcement that the quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent in cash will be declared before the close of the week. The reaction in Atchison was due to the assurance that in return for the assessment on the stock the chances favored the issue of an income bond with voting privileges.

Financial Gossip.

Foreign and Domestic News Company, by private wire to J. C. Knox, manager—Stocks opened barely steady. A drive was made against Sugar to catch step orders. The Havemeyer brokers were moderate buyers at the reaction, but the bears showed more confidence, however, in selling the stock now that it is quoted ex-dividend.

London houses were moderate buyers of St. Paul, but the room tracers took profits on the cheap took they had picked up at Monday's decline.

Louisville and Nashrile was a shade Louisville and Nashale was a shade firmer in response to higher questions abroad, where the good exhibit of earnings in comparison with the losses in the previ-ous week and a favorable influence

Gas was stronger, but there was little disposition to acquire fresh lines of long stock as insiders were apparently willing to take profits at the relly.

Dow, Jones News Company, by private wire to J. C. Knox, manager—There is talk in the Sugar crowd this morning of some new buying in the stock. The rumor in regard to the matters are not at all clear, but have enough weight in this mar-ket to have influenced buying by people who get good Sugar information.

The traders were singularly routed in Sugar, having sold at the opening, but they covered quickly when the pool broker narked up the prices.

Now that Western Union has declared a regular quarterly dividend the bears are harping on the delay on the declaration of the New York Central dividend.

The advance in Burlington and Quincy was on covering of some of the stock sold vesterday.

Chicago houses wire that there is still a short interest there in Chieago Gas, and that it is believed the pool does not mean to allow any reaction until this stock has been covered.

The active bulls tell friends today that there is nothing in sight to make prices go off and that as good news comes along there will be improvements. Despite some discouraging advices as to the action of the coal miners in their in dividual districts the tone has been strong throughout the session. The bullish tendency of London on Louisville and Nashville and St. Paul im-

Moore & Schley and Clews & Co. did a good deal in Sugar Monday, apparently on the long side. Mr. Carlisle soid 3,000 shares, and there was some other selling which attracted attention on an idea that it foreshadowed a decline. One operator who has had a great deal to do with the speculation in Monday sight: "Sugar is not high enough on its merits, but it is high enough speculatively. The bill is all right, as far as the senate is concerned, but the house has to be reckoned with, and there are a good many men in the house who are anxious for an opportunity to prove how much their virtue exceeds the virtue of the members of the senate. They will lose no time in attack-ing the Sugar schedule, and the hue and cry which has been raised will have a tendency to defeat the conference plan arranged some time ago. It is entirely possible for a majority in the senate, if there is such a majority, to adopt resolutions and to instruct the house conferers. It may not amount to much in the end, but it would not have to amount to a great deal to justify a decline in Sugar."

Another trader said: "I admit myself price has had a large rise without reaction. Furthermore, I think there are incidental evidences that the advance has reached a point where its promoters are willing to sell."

NEW YORK, June 13.—A slight decline at Liverpool this morning was quickly recovered, closing at about yesterday's prices. Spot sales were not encouraging, but as crop accounts, according to the weekly government report published today, were rather unfavorable outside of Texas, the market improved 8 points over yesterday's close, mainly, however, because of a reported advance in Liverpool of 5-64d over the opening prices in that market, owing to an error on the part of the news agency furnishing that character of information, to this exchange. As soon as the mistake was corrected most of the advance was lost. The government report mentioned above is as follows:

North Carolina—Drought injuring crops; corn growing well.

South Carolinas Cotton shows slight improvement, but remains small; corn beginning to suffer from drought.

Georgia—All crops at standstill from drought. Even corn begins to wither.

Florida—Crops promising, where reasonable showers fell, but rain needed badly in northern counties. Ly Private Wire to J. C. Knox. Manager.

Florida—Crops promising, where reasonable showers fell, but rain needed badly in northern counties.

Alabama—Drought continues except where scattered showers in southwest counties fell. Cotton and corn drying up in places.

Missistppi—Cold and dry and unfavorable for all crops. Cotton full of lice. Rains fairly general and very beneficial.

Texas—Cotton and corn doing well.

Arkansas—Drought prevails in central and southern portions. Cotton failing somewhat but recovering with higher night temperatures.

Tennessee—Crop suffering from drought. The continuance of dry weather will doubtless do a great deal of damage, whereas rains will undoubtedly cause very free selling. Liverpool and the continent are always pessimistic at this time of the year and ready to believe anything favorable to the crop and the same may be said to be true naturally of American spinners. There seems a prospect of a settlement of the tariff question by or before the 1st of July. Port receipts today were about 2,900 bales, against 23,000 last year. Our closing is 1 to 2 points better than last night.

NEW YORK, June 13.—(Special.)—Summary of Hubbard, Price & Co.'s cotton letter: Manchester spinners seem to be satisfied with the prospective supply of cotton in Liverpool and reduced their takings today to 8,000 bales, while the arrival market declined 2-64d from yesterday's quotations. Our advices state that this decline was on account of the depressed condition of Manchester, and the probability of Mr. Neill's issuing a circular stating that the acreage would show an increase of 8 per cent, while crop prospects could not be improved upon. The government crop report was considered unfavorable, especially for Georgia, Alabama and North Carolina, and the market opened steady at 2 points above last evening's prices. Then followed the receipt of a succession of dispatches from Liverpool, reporting advances rapidly until the official quotation made an improvement in the prices abroad of 5-64 to 6-64d. Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, June 13.—(Specia.)—When our market opened today Liverpool had declined about 2-64d, but in the face of the government weather report, showing drought in many parts of the cotton belt, nobody here seemed inclined to sell, and our opening was at an davance of 2 to 4 points, the first sales of August being at 7.20. Liverpool at once rallied handsomely and by some blunder the advance there was reported to be just double what it really was. The market advanced sharply on this news and 7.26 was bid for August, but when the ierror was corrected most of the advance was lost and August fluctuated for the rest of the day between 7.21 and 7.22. Just before 3 o'clock the market became easier on telegrams announcing rains in South Carolina and the close was dull with 7.20 bid for August. If the rains should prove to be anything like general in the southeast prices may go lower, but we are still strongly of the opinion that upon every good break cotton is a purchase. NEW YORK, June 13.—Cotton advanced 7 to covered this and according to an erroneous net advance for the day of 3 points. Sales 70.100 bales. Liverpool declined 2 points, recovered this and accodring to an erroneous dispatch to the exchange, then advanced 2 points more, but this proved to be a mistake. The net improvement for the day was take. The net improvement for the day was only about ½ a point. The spot sales there were 8,000 bales, at unchanged prices. New Orleans advanced 3 to 5 points. Port receipts, 2,765, against 857 this day last week, and 2,288 last year. Thus far this week, 12,717, against 13,337 last week. In Manchester yarns were dult, cloths quiet. Spot cotton here was steady and unchanged; sales 414 for spinning. The southern spot markets were generally quiet, steady and without alteration.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 13.—The final outcome of the day's trading in wheat showed a net depreciation from yesterday's close of 1½%c. The weight of the selling was too much for even the effects of the prevailing parched condition of the crop to hold up against. At the suart there was a firm and strong fone under-running operations, but the pressure of long wheat was continuous and eventually succeeded in determining the direction of prices. July wheat append at 6½%clf½c., solid between 6½% and 55%c., closing at 55%c., with the loss above noted. Cash wheat was in good demand, but prices lost about 1 cent, the decline being due to the break in the furtures. decline being due to the tures.

Corn was very near as weak as wheat at the close, although the feeling was not represented by quite as big a decline. The changes were, as a rule, governed by the larger market. There was heavy selling of corn, which was an influential depressing factor. July opened 42,041%c., sold between 42% and 41%c., closing %c. under yesterday at 41%c. There was a fair demand for cash corn, with prices firm early, but closing easier.

Oats—Notwithstanding the weakness of wheat and corn, oats held firm, and while not making much of a gain, were nevertheless in a better position at the end of the day's trading than either of its companions. July closed %c. higher than yesterday. June and September were unchanged. Cash oats were in good demand and firmer. Prices were 4c. higher.

Provisions, after opening firm on an advance in the price of hogs, at the close were weak and lower, affected by the break in wheat. There was free selling during the latter part of the day, a prominent packing institution leading. July pork had lost 12%c., July lard, 5c., and July ribs, 5c. at the end of the session.

Lamson Bros. & Co's. Grain Letter.

Lamson Bros. & Co's. Grain Letter.

By Private Wire to J. C. Knox, Manager.
CHICAGO, June 13.—Opening prices this morning proved the highest of the day. The feeling was very steady on a prediction of continued dry weather, but selling by the "talent" was so heavy and the advance for the past three days so sharp that prices later commenced to gradually decline, the buying being led mostly by New York and the crowd. Early cables were also strong, but Liverpool closed weak, with the advance lost.

Berlin also closed lower, but Paris and Antwerp were firm. Crop reports also appear to be more favorable, and the fact that harvesting will begin shortly in some localities also had a tendency to creute some bearishness. Ealtic advices indicate a much firmer feeling. France reports snow. Clearances were only fair, about 300,000 bushels, all told. The weekly shipments from the Baltic and sundry ports have had a depressing effect on foreign markets. It is also reported that The Price Current will be out with a very bearish article tomorrow estimating the 'crop at over 450,000,000 bushels. There is a good deal of talk about large deliveries on July contracts, both from elevator people' and others holding receipts. Should the weather turn favorable holders may have a hard time to keep their courage up the balance of the month. While the prospects for corn were never better at this season of the year and general rains would encourage short selling, the indications are that the supply of old corn is quite limited, and the holders of the same are not likely to sell out at the declines. Hogs are also bringling a good price which is a great inducement to feed them old corn.

Oats were neglected and the friends of higher prices are not so enthusiastic as they have been during the past week.

It was claimed early that The Price Current will estimate the wheat crop at $40,000,000 bushels today, but later it was reported that the $40,000,000 bushels and $35,000,000 acres report, to be published in The Price Current, is Tollman's report and not Murray's, and that Murray's report will make about 40,000,000 bushels and 33,000,000

The Georgia Bankers Will Not Suffer the Iniquitous Tax Levied

CLEARING HOUSE CERTIFICATES

An Interesting Interview with Captain
John A. Davis, the Well-Known
Albany Banker-Others Talk.

There will probably be a test case made by the Georgia bankers against the taxa-con of the issue of clearing house certifi-ates which was made last summer to pre-of the issue of clearing house certinates which was made last summer to prevent a money panic at the south.

The decision by the attorney general some time ago that this issue of temporary currency comes under the head of the issue of regular money and that it should be taxed 10 per cent caused a great flurry among the Georgia bankers who had resorted to this policy as the only thing they could do at a time when the money market was so short to supply the needs of the people of this section of the south. The Brawley bill, which was defeated in congress a few days ago, was a measure introduced for the purpose of relieving the southern banks from this tax, gave evidence of the fact that the banks will more than probably be made to pay for more than probably be made to pay for more than probably be made to pay for having helped the south over a trying at the action taken by congress, but hope even yet to get relief from the tax.

It will be remembered that the It will be remembered that the bankers of the Georgia State Bankers' Association while convened at their regular annual convention, in this city, several days ago, passed a resolution calling upon congress to 40 something that will relieve the banks of the south from the tax that has been held over them as required by law.

The resolution was introduced by Captain Robert Lowry, president of the Lowry their Company, of this city, who was. Booking Company, of this city, who was, last summer, president of the Atlanta Clearing house Association, at the time the clearing house certificates were introduced and used as a medium to save the people from the panic that threatened

Following is a full text of the resolution

"Whereas, it is with regret that we see that congress has refused to pass the Brawley bill to relieve banks from the 10 per cent tax on the issue of clearing house certificates during the strungency of the summer of 1893, as it is a well-known fact that the banks issued them without profit when the country needed, to the excent never known before, some kind of money to protect them against further wide-spread

"Resolved, by the Georgia Bankers' Assocation, in s-ssion in Atanta at this time, That we ask and urge our congressmen and chators to do all they can by new bills, or otherwise, to relieve us of the tax imposed only our timely action saved many good institutions from being forced to sus-pend, and untold inancial trouble would have been entelled which would take years to efface, but for our timely action in is-suing clearing house certificates to tide over the temporary inancial frouble, all of which have long ago been redemed."

Colonel John A. Davis, the well known banker of Albany, who is chairman of the ascutive council of the Georgia State Bankers' Association, was seen by a Constitution representative on a train while going from the bankers' convention to his home at Albany, and asked what will prob-sby be done by the executive board of the association with reference to the defeat of the Brawley bill.

"Well, I am inclined to believe," said he,
"that something will be done by congress looking to the relief of the southern banks in this matter. You see the Brawley bill had saddled to it the unconditional repeal of the 10 per cent tax on state banks. This went too far in the simple remedy for what we had to cure. What we wanted to do was to get congress to say that we ought not to be taxed on the issue of clearing house certificates. I was very much inter-ested in the matter, and as chairman of the executive council of the Georgia Bankers' Association I wrote to the chairman of the committee in congress to which this Brawley bill was referred and asked him what he thought would become of it. I had quite an interesting letter from him in reply saying that the bill was somewhat entaned by the amendments that had been tacked on to it, but that it had passed the committee without a dissenting vote. He said that he feared it would not be passed said that he feared it would not be passed by the house on account of the amendments that had been placed on its tail, and sure enough it did not pass. It was his opinion that if the question had simply been wheth-er the southern banks ought to be taxed by the government for having issued clearing house certificates it would have been easy to get it through. But with the amendments it was quite a dieffrent thing."

"What do you think will come of it?" "I am at a loss to say," was the doubtful teply of Colonel Davis "I only know this, that the bankers of the state of Georgia who saved many a worthy industry from last year by the issue of clear use certificates will be very much disappointed at congress if M falls to do something for their relief in this matter."

"In case nothing is done by congress, what do you think will be done by the bankers of the south?" was asked.
"I am sure that we will take the matter the courts and get a decision by the diciary department of the government. It is a matter in which the bankers of the south feel a deep interest. We did not Issue clearing house certificates for the purpose of enriching the banks. It did not bring a single penny into ourpockets. simply did it for the good of the secthe for the good of many burdened indus-ties of this region that were suffering at that time, landed with the that time, loaded with the hardships that arose out of the condition of bankruptcy horeing over the south. It was tor the worthiest of causes that we issued the dearing house certificates, and I hold that it is the highest sort of law that we ought not to be taxed for having issued them."

"You say you will take the case to the courts and test the right of the government to tax banks for issuing such as ment to tax banks for issuing such a "That's exactly what I mean. Right here I want to say that it was noticeable last ear that when times were so hard, when we couldn't get a penny from 'he New Iork banks, we decided, as a last resort, to issue these certificates. We did issue them in Albany and in other cities of this late, and what was the result? Why, the Pery next thing we heard from New York was that we could get all the money we bedded. As soon as they found out that we could get along without their assistance they they were perfectly willing to meet our aseds, and we got the help we wanted from them by showing this mark of independance. It was easy to make terms, don't rou see? The talk about there being no money in the country vanished as soon as the northern banks found out that we could set along without them. Now, these same New York banks at that time were issuing clearing house certificates for their daily attlements with each other, and I fail Attlements with each other, and I fail see why we should be taxed and they allowed to go free."

Colonel Davis talks interestingly about the crisis that confronted the Ells of the south when the country was to such need. He says that the southern innks tried faithfully to meet the crisis and states that they will be found ready to do so whenever the time comes. He rays the whenever the time comes. He rays the case will go before the courts of the courty backed by the state association of bankers if congress does not pass some law that will free them from the taxation of the clearing house certificates they issued at summer. nel J. J. C. McMahan, of Airens, ent of the Exchange pank, of that city, is of the same opinion as expressed by Colonel John A. Davis. He says the case ought to go before the judiciary department of the government the first tring, in order that the banks might be set right before the people. To is of the opinion that it is all wrong for the government to tax the southern banks and allow the the northern banks and allow the the northern banks were carried on there. He says the banks would only use their clearing house certificates extensibly as settlements of their daily balances, but they would allow men to check off on them with certified checks, in order to them with certified checks, in order to beat the devil around the stump, as the southern phrase goes. Captain Boyd, president of the Merchants' bank, of Griffin, says the banks of the south had scarcely more than issued the clearing house certificates before the banks of the north expressed a willingness for them to get all the money they wanted from them.

"Why," said he, 'here in the little town

"Why," said he, 'here in the little town of Griffin we sent on orders for money which we grew fearful would not be honored, and, as a last, weart, we decided to issue clearing house certificates. We issued only $2,200 of then, when we received word that we could get the money we wanted, and on good terms. we wanted, and on good terms. Thus we did not use all the vertilizates we issued before we could do without them. It all goes to show that as soon as we had the thing fixed among ourselves we could get what we wanted from the New York banks."

The Georgia bankers are determined to fight the battle to an end. They will ret pay the tax exacted of them on the certifi-

CITY NOTES.

HE IS HOME AGAIN .- Mr. Charles Dantel returned home last night from Denver, Col., where he went a month ago to represent the Atlanta division at the ninth annual convention of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, which was held in that city May 21st to 31st. He says they had a large and enthusiastic meeting and were treated most hospitably by the westerners. He ex-tended his visit to Salt Lake City, Utah, and other points of interest in the Rocky mountains. Georgia was recognized in the convention by electing Mr. Daniel a member and secretary of the grand executive committee, which is the governing body of the order while the annual conventions are not in session. The next session will be held in St. Louis in May, 1895.

THE PRIZE WINNERS-Mr. Turner C. Thomas, of Augusta, a member of the Richmond Hussars, with Captain Twiggs, won the prize for marksmanship at the Griffin encampment. Mr. Thomas is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jefferson Thomas, of Atlanta. The Evening News a few years ago referring to a tilt in Aiken, S. C., writes: "The first in-dividual prize and the white plume were brought back by Private Turner C. Thomas; the second by W. S. Gardner and the third by Jeff Thomas. The Thomas broth-ers are always among the prize winners, and the younger brother won the plume at Aiken yesterday, only to turn it over to the elder brother. Mr. Turner Thomas has the finest record of any man in the company, and he has not only now more prizes, but wears the gold medal for marksmanship, the badge for drilling and now the white plums as the prize tilter."

Tax Collector Stewart now has over $1,000 on deposit for taxes in his "savings bank."
He has been allowing those taxpayers who desire to to deposit a small amount each week in order that the taxes could be saved up. One man who pays taxes to the amount of $100 has taken advantage of the idea, and declares that it simply saved him from being obliged to sell out. The idea is a splendid one and has brought much praise and many thanks to the genial, generous tax collector.

Returns are coming in somewhat slower now than at the same time last year. The office will close in a few days and the penalty of not giving in is double tax. Assistant Tax Receiver Gatins is authority for the statement that all property is being returned at a much lower valuation this year. The largest return up to date is that of W. D. Grant, which foots up over $750,000. The returns of the Collier estate, which has furnished material for the newspapers, have not been made yet.

Ed Brown and Walter Richardson were bound over yesterday by Justice Bloodworth for burglary and larceny. They broke into a chicken house and removed several hens. Their bonds were placed at $250 each. Laura Ross filed a suit for divorce against her husband, Aleck Ross. They were married in 1877, and the allegations are that Ross tired of the bonds of matrimony and beat the plaintiff.

Justice Bloodworth bound over the following parties yesterday: Joe Perkerson, alias Strickler, larceny after trust; George Miller, assault and battery, and Richard White, larceny.

Speaking of Professor Ambrose, The Chattanooga Times has this to say: "A slight, pleasant-faced gentleman last evening de-livered one of the most scholarly lectures ever listened to by a Chattanooga audi-ence. It was James Clement Ambrose. His theme was "The Scholar in Politics." His wonderful flow of language, the clearness and force of his logic, his polished manner and pleasant, well regulated voice, car-ried his hearers by storm. For an hour and a half they listened to his rounded periods and flashes of wit with great interest."

In speaking of his other lectures the press of the country is equally as enthusiastic, and it goes without saying that Professor Ambrose will be one of the most interesting men before the assembly. In the person of Miss Hortense Pierse, of New York, prima donna soprano, the chau-tauqua has secured a gem. Miss Pierse is one of the most accomplished vocalists on the American platform. The St. Louis Post says, "Her voice was startling in its power and warmth, and sounded charming, grand and majestic. Her singing was the pearl of the occasion."

Rev. C. P. Williamson, D. D., will be in charge of the Bible normal class, and will also be the superintendent of the platform.

bedlam reigned supreme.

It was just after the third man for Atlanta went out in the second inning when a small size cyclone struck the ball park, and about 100 yards of the north side fence was taken away by the wind. The infield fence, near the grand stand, was also blown down, and in falling struck a gentle-man and lady, hurting them, however,

The bleachers took to the grand stand, but retired with a Nancy Hanks gait when the wind struck the stand, the heavy timbers of which creaked under the pressure

The Atlantas started off well with the bat in the first inning, scoring three runs, two of which were earned, retiring the Pelicans in one, two, three order. But the storm seemed to be a "Jonah" to the home team. Between the dust and excitement Chard seemed to be overwhelmed with a streak of—dust in eyes or nervousness, for Campau and his cohorts had a picnic, never stopping until eight men had crossed the Charleston 8, Memphis 2.

Charleston, S. C., June 13.—Charleston won from Memphis today by bunching hits in the first and ninth inning. A bad throw of O'Meara to third base in the third inning let in two runs. Wadsworth pitched a fine game, excepting in the two innings mentioned. McFarland also pitched a fine game, the visitors getting seven scattering hits. Score: Charleston. ... 3 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 3—8. Savannah Shut Out.

Savannah, Ga., June 13.-Nashville took the first game of the series from Savannah today. The home team was clearly out-played by the visitors, both in the field and at the bat. Duke was in the box for Savannah and was very wild. In the seventh he got mad at something or other and threw the ball out in the field, letting Whitehead, who was on base, score. Harper pitched a good game for the visitors, only three hits being gotten off his delivery. The fielding of the visitors was sharp and precise, only one error being charged against them. The features of the game were home runs by Sweeney and Dooley, of Nashville. Score:

VIRGINIA COLLEGE FINALS,

Roanoke, Va.,-The Baccalaureate Sermon by Bishop Fitzgerald-Graduntes of 1894.

mon by Bishop Fitzgerald—Graduates of 1894.

Roanoke, Va., June 13.—(Special.)—Of all the institutions of the city of Roanoke none gives more evidence of permanence and prosperity than the Virginia College for Young Ladies, of which Dr. William A. Harris is the founder and president. The handsome and stately edifice of that name which stands under the shadow of the Blue Ridge and overlooks as grand a vista of mountains, river and woodland as the eye ever gazed upon is not only a ccedit to the Magic City, but is a monument to one man who had the wisdom to conceive and the will and energy to carry out a project which has given to this section one of the finest educational institutions for young ladies in the south. Notwithstanding the opening session of the college in the fall of 1893 was in a year of national gloom and monetary panic, pupils from all over Virginia and the country generally gathered within its walls to receive instruction until 180 were on its rolls, among them being young ladies from seventeen different states, the parents of whom were willing to entrust the moral and intellectual training of their daughters to Dr.
Harris, who, in an experience of over forty years, had earned a national reputation as a thorough and finished educator.

The commencement exercises, which began yesterday morning in the college chapel with the baccalaureate sermon by Bishop O. P. Fitzgerald, of Georgia, and which were largely attended, were conclusive evidence of the success of the college and its thorough and efficient management by the president and its twenty-three European and American officers and teachers.

There will be an art reception at the college from 4 to 9 o'clock this evening. Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock keel be held the grand finale concert by the pupils. On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock the closing exercises will be held, embracing the awarding of distinctions, conferring degrees and granting diplomas.

The graduating class this year is coming of distinctions, conferring degrees and granting diplomas.

The graduating class this year is composed of the following young ladies:
Bachelor of Science—Misses Bessie Linkous, of Virginia: Mabel Turner and Roberta Atkins, both of North Carolina.
Bachelor of Arts—Misses Mary Schermerhorn, Virginia; Beulah Ball, South Carolina; Bessie Stewart, Georgia; Blanch Linney, North Carolina; Garnet Page, West Virginia; Mabel Clark, Tennessee; Penelope McDuffy, South Carolina.

Master of Arts—Misses Nellie De Wees, Tennessee; Kate Linkous, Virginia; Hester Linney, North Carolina; Mattie Lou Phillips, Virginia; Mollie Peeple, Tennessee; Beryl Stewart, West Virginia; Louise Snodgrass, Tennessee; Mary Williamson, Virginia.

NO DECISION RENDERED. The Marietta and North Georgia Matter Still Unsettled.

The affairs of the Marietta and North Georgia railroad have assumed no definite shape yet, but action is daily expected and the result is almost assured. Upon the application of the reorganization committee to appoint Elias Summerfield receiver Judge Newman has never rendered a decision. Since the hearing of the petition, however, which occurred several days before the ef-fort to sell the road, certain bondholding interests and the reorganization committee have become reconciled. As a result of this it is a settled fact that Mr. Summerfield will be put in as co-receiver. No change will take place in the operation of the road when this occurs, except that Mr. Glove and Mr. Summerfield will manage things together, whereas before only Mr. Glover has had control.

Brunswick, Ga., June 13.-(Special.)-A. orrible accident occurred on Newcastle street at 6 o'clock this evening. A doublehorse carriage team ran over Miss Marimna Way, daughter of W. J. Way, crushng and mangling her in a terrible man-

Miss Way was crossing Newcastle street when the driver carelessly ran over her. The pole struck her in the side, knocking her down and her body tell under the horses' feet. The negro driver held them still while they pranced excitedly. Every boof of the norses struck some portion of the body. Her face was lacerated and trushed into a bleeding mass, while blows om the hoofs struck the chest, causing blood to gush profusely from the mouth. The street was crowded with prome maders and those near appeared to be paralyzed with horror. As soon as possible the horses were forced on and the trushed and . bleeding young girl was carried by tender hands into Crovatt's drug Store. Dr. M. Bishop, who was near, was hurriedly summoned, while several ladies belped stop the flow of blood and assisted dress the wounds. After Miss Way was carried home Dr. Bishop stated that the wounds may not prove fatal. Miss Way is one of Brunswick's most istimable young ladies, her family being me of the best and oldest in this section peculiar fatality of late seems to be hadowing her. Last Saturday, while returning from a pleasure party from St. limon's, she accidentally fell overboard at the dock, and sank twice before being rescued by Captain Martin Anderson and ber brother, who plunged in after her.

The negro hack driver who caused tolay's deplorable accident, was promptly falled. A great deal of indignation is felt wer the driver's carelessness, witnesses stating he was looking in a direction dinerent from that in which he was driving when the accident occurred.

BURIAL OF MR. JULIUS PRAGER. One of the Largest Funerals Ever

Seen in Augusta. Augsta, Ga., June 13.—(Special.)—The fu-beral of Mr. Julius Prager took place at o'clock this afternoon from the Odd Felows' hall, where the body laid in state all day. The service was conducted by Rabbi Edward S. Levy, of Selma, Ala. The folowing gentlemen acted as honorary pallearers: L. Warner, H. Brooks, W. E. Keener, George Adams, P. J. O'Connor, W. P. Eve, John J. Cohen, C. H. Cohen, I. C. Levy, S. Lesser, Frank E. Fleming, R. H. May.

The active pallbearers were selected from the uniform rank of the Knights of Pythias, of which organization the deceased was tate quartermaster general.

It was one of the largest funerals ever held in Augusta, and was attended by all the secret orders. Mr. Prager was a good man and a true friend. He took delight in doing good, alleviating distress and proving rotessed friendship. Many a person in FOND TERMS TO HER.

Mrs. Thompson Accuses Two Men of an Attempt at Mashing.

ONE OF THEM HELD OUT HIS ARMS

And Used Exceedingly Endearing Terms The Accused Men Make a Sweeping Denial of the Charge.

Two sun-browned, serious-looking men, without a trace of adventure in their blue eyes, who were held at police headqua esterday, belong to a distinctly new type of mashers, if they are mashers at all.

The charge of attempting to make love on the street to a good-looking married lady, whom they did not know, is about the last one that the student of human nature would think of pringing against them. But on such a charge were they arrested yesterday morning, and Mrs. Thompson, a splendid-looking brunette, with supero form, features and eyes, was the accuser. She said that one of them body mur-mured fond terms to her as she was wak-ing along the street and then held out his arms to her.

The offense occurred night before last, about 8 o'clock, on South Pryor street, a block and a half from the Kimball house. Mrs. Thompson was walking alone when two mer approached and spoke to ner. They spoke in an extremely familiar and tender tone, and she ignored them. continued and finally one of them held out his arms to her. She looked for an officer and found Officer Kerlin. She described the two men and A. J. Harris and M. C. Perry were arrested.

Yesterday afternoon the two men were arraigned, and Mrs. Thompson, accom-panied by her husband, appeared to tell She told it in a few words and the story.

in a straightforward manner.
"Those two mer," said she, "saw me coming up the street and begun to smile, 'Oh, there she comes,' that one standing there said (indicating Perry), 'don't sne look sweet. See how she walks.' He said that once or twice and I walked on witnout paying any attention. He kept it up and finally held out his arms to me and said: 'Come.' I hurried on to look for an cm-cer."

She said that Mr. Harris had done nothing but stand by while Perry did the talk

The two accused men made a sweeping denial of the accusation. They denied that they were on Pryor street night before last and said it was all a mistake. They said they boarded together, but had been together only a few minutes when they were arrested.

The recorder said he would have to fine Perry under the evidence. He made the fine $25 and costs. Harris was turned losse. Both Harris and Perry are very respectable in appearance and were weil dressed. Both have many frients, many of whom witnessed the trial yesterday at-ternoon. The latter say that there must be some mistake about the identity of the men with the guilty ones. Mrs. I'nompsor said she was positive, nowever.

Alaska Retrigerators Are the Best in the World!

This claim is fully substantiated wherever an "Alaska" is used.

"THE REASON WHY." The principal causes of decay in meats and fruits are DAMPNESS and VARYING TEMPERATURE.

The qualities sought for in a Refrigerator are PRESERVATION OF PERISHABLE FOOD and an economical use of ice.

The "Alaska" is constructed upor

The "Alaska" is constructed upon at letly scientific principles, by which Low TEMPERATURE and ABSOLUTE DBYNESS OF AIR are naturally and inevitably obtained.

The "Alaska" possesses a provision chamber FREE FROM ODOR AND FROM DAMPNESS. These results can be obtained only by a PERFECT CIRCULATION of the air in the Refrigerator, and its CONDENSATION IN THE IN E CHAMBER.

The "Alaska" keeps the air in con-tact with the ice longer than any other Refrigerator, condenses all the moisture before the air returns to the provision chamber, and, in utiliz-ing al' the cold air, PRODUCES BET-TER RESULTS WITH LESS ICE than ary other make. ary other make.
The "Alaska" is a perfect DRY-AIR
REFRIGERATOR, and the best one
